HG bearing housing

HG Hanging Bearing Housings by GLH are split housings designed for use with spherical roller bearings, self-aligning ball bearings, or plain bearing inserts. The integrated mounting bracket features a threaded hole, allowing the housing to be suspended using a threaded rod.

Our HG housings are equipped with a double seal groove on both sides, enabling the use of standard, including split, seals. The use of split bearing inserts ensures system flexibility and makes it particularly suitable for applications with long drive shafts.
