ABOUT ME

Product Designer with software-engineering roots, turning technical, high-stakes domains into clear, trustworthy products. I own the full product lifecycle and build the design systems that keep teams fast and consistent. I partner closely with cross-functional teams, and my technical background lets me design for real technical constraints and turn complex data into intuitive, confident experiences

WORK EXPERIENCE

 Parallel² — Product Innovation & Consulting – Dublin, Ireland

Product Design Partner

[01/02/2026 – Current]

- Member of the Parallel2 freelance partner network, delivering product design on client engagements as opportunities align.

 YLD – London, United Kingdom

UX & Product Design Consultant (Healthcare Sector)

[17/11/2025 – 30/01/2026]

- Designed a responsive research platform focused on autism research, shaping user-centered experiences for complex, high-stakes research workflows.
- Built and evolved a scalable design system that improved consistency, accessibility, and development efficiency, enabling the platform to grow and adapt over time.
- Partnered with cross-functional teams across the full product lifecycle, grounding design decisions in user needs and product strategy.

 Arista Networks – Dublin, Ireland

Product Designer

[12/05/2025 – 12/10/2025]

- Shaped experiences within the network visibility and telemetry domain of CloudVision, a large-scale, multi-domain enterprise network platform.
- Contributed to platform-level design decisions and to the organisation's AI strategy, identifying where AI could streamline operational workflows and enable faster, more informed decisions at scale.
- Collaborated with cross-functional teams across the full product lifecycle in a complex enterprise environment.

 Arcanna.ai – New York, United States

Founding Product Designer

[01/01/2022 – 09/05/2025]

- Owned end-to-end design of an AI-powered cybersecurity platform for Security Operations Centers (SOCs), from early ideation to execution, as the founding designer.
- Translated complex security and technical concepts into clear, usable experiences that support confident decision-making in high-risk environments.

- Designed flexible, high-performance data tables and an AI assistant that contextualizes noisy, agnostic data - reducing tool-switching and speeding up threat response.
- Created and maintained the design system, ensuring visual consistency and efficient delivery while staying flexible to evolving product needs.
- Design supported the company's growth as Arcanna.ai raised $5.45M in investment funding.

 Arcanna.ai – New York, United States

Software Developer & SCRUM Master

[01/01/2018 – 01/12/2021]

- Delivered full-stack functionality across diverse projects: front-end, back-end, database optimization, and Linux administration.
- Worked across a broad stack including TypeScript, JavaScript, Python, Docker, Kafka, and the Elastic stack - the engineering foundation behind my product-design work today.
- As Scrum Master, coached the team toward self-management, removed impediments, and partnered with the Product Owner on strategy and roadmap.

 Faxtorial Tech – Timisoara, Romania

Software Developer

[01/10/2016 – 31/12/2017]

- Built back-end and front-end features across multiple projects using PHP, JavaScript/jQuery, Python, and CodeIgniter, with relational and non-relational databases.
- Automated workflows via shell scripting and administered Linux servers (CentOS, Debian, FreeBSD).

 iSoftBet – Timisoara, Romania

Web Developer

[01/07/2016 – 01/10/2016]

- Built an online casino from scratch using PHP, JavaScript/jQuery, Bootstrap, and PDO - including authentication, user creation and profiles, PayPal payment integration, and a blackjack game.

 West University of Timisoara – Timisoara, Romania

Network Administrator

[11/09/2014 – 24/06/2016]

- Maintained and extended the university network spanning 11 faculties and all dormitories, including L2/L3 switches, routers, and firewalls (Cisco, HP, Ubiquiti, pfSense, Puppet).
