

Luxury does not always follow the common patterns. Luxury goes beyond and almost like one of the best gourmets joins varied experiences, ingredients and recipes into one. Exactly like our piece of art called “The Epicure”, which could not present its beauty by itself; only with the help of the other elements reveals the one complete part, one amazing complete “island”. Following this idea, we have selected the unique volcanic material such as natural quartzite Venom. Satin finish highlights the irregular shapes, veins and the pits of the stone element designed by Mother Nature. The solid aluminium plates in “Windy Nickel” finish form the fundament of the stone table top.
