

Abraham Sheppard

Project Urban Designer, AICP

Abraham Sheppard is a Project Urban Designer who embraces a collaborative, community-driven approach to planning and design. He approaches projects with an interdisciplinary perspective, blending technical know-how with strong design thinking. With 15 years of experience in planning, urban design, and landscape architecture, Abraham works across multiple disciplines and scales. He has extensive experience in public realm design, design standards, and streetscape projects. No matter the project, he values input from community members and stakeholders to help create outcomes that are meaningful, well-supported, and long-lasting.
