Who is Stephane Damiano?

Stéphane Damiano is a highly respected figure in the world of golf, with a distinguished career built on his passion for the sport and profound expertise.

In 1990, Stéphane founded the Prime Golf Academy, an institution that has helped countless young golfers achieve their highest potential. He has served as a regional and departmental coach for the French Golf Federation, responsible for identifying and training the best young talents in the region. Through his work, Stéphane has earned international recognition within the golfing community, notably receiving the prestigious John Jacobs Teaching & Coaching Award (equivalent to the best European coach).
