Suggestions for moving forward with your sermon on the topic of sovereign choice, based on your current ideas:

1. Highlight the significance of God crossing His hands in Genesis 48:8-15:

- Emphasize the symbolism of Jacob's blessing and the unexpected reversal of the birthright.
- Connect this act to God's sovereign choice and His ability to work beyond human expectations.

2. Explore additional Scripture passages that support the concept of sovereign choice:

- Romans 9:10-13: Discuss how God's choice of Jacob over Esau demonstrates His sovereignty in election.
- Ephesians 1:4-5: Explain how God chose us in Christ before the foundation of the world, emphasizing His sovereign grace.

3. Utilize language suggestions from the original languages:

- In Genesis 48:8, the Hebrew word for "crossed" is "sabal." Highlight its meaning of "to intertwine" or "to interweave," emphasizing the intricate nature of God's sovereign choice.

- In Romans 9:11, the Greek word for "choice" is "eklogē." Explain its significance as God's deliberate selection, underscoring His sovereignty.

4. Connect your sermon to other relevant biblical examples:

- Mention how God chose David as king over his older brothers (1 Samuel 16), illustrating His sovereign choice beyond human expectations.
- Discuss the calling of the apostle Paul (Acts 9), highlighting God's sovereign choice to use him despite his past persecution of Christians.

5. Offer practical application and encouragement:

- Encourage your listeners to trust in God's sovereign choice, even when it seems unexpected or contrary to human understanding.
- Remind them that God's sovereignty brings comfort and assurance, knowing that His plans are perfect and trustworthy.

Remember to weave these suggestions into your existing sermon outline, reinforcing your current ideas and supporting them with relevant Scripture passages and examples.
