How We Work with Builders

At Integration Controls, we partner with custom and semi-custom builders to ensure a home is created with the future in mind, including home technologies seamlessly integrated into client projects from the beginning. When this happens, we help to eliminate last-minute changes, provide an accurate budget, improve project alignment, and provide clients with a well-designed space that is both beautiful and intelligent.

Smarter Homes from the Ground Up

- True Collaboration

We act as your comprehensive technology consultant, ensuring that smart home solutions are thoughtfully planned and implemented alongside other trades.

- Seamless Product Integration

From lighting and automation to whole-home audio and entertainment, we help coordinate the right technology for each project.

- Accurate Budgeting & Installation

We assist with technology budgeting, ensuring smooth installations that align with your project timeline and client expectations.

- Service Beyond Installation

Our partnership doesn't end when a project is complete. We provide ongoing support, updates, and service to ensure all technology continues to perform as needs evolve.

Let's Build Smarter, Together

Smart home technology isn't just a feature—it's an essential part of modern living, and we want to help you build smarter.

We help builders deliver high-performance, beautifully integrated solutions that elevate every project. Let's collaborate to create spaces that are as intuitive as they are impressive.
