PARENT RESOURCES

FULLER YOUTH INSTITUTE
fulleryouthinstitute.org

The Fuller Youth Institute turns research into practical resources to help make the church the best place for young people to grow, and they have lots of resources for parents!

AXIS • axis.org

Axis equips parents for gospel-centered conversations with their teen about faith and culture. They have articles, videos, and podcasts to help give practical ways for parents to engage in these conversations with their kids.

WELCOME TO TEN12

I am so excited to welcome your family to TEN12, our Wednesday night programming for 10th-12th graders at CPC! These years are some of the most formative in a student's life, and I count it a privilege to walk alongside your student as they grow in faith, relationships, and purpose.

WHAT WE DO

In TEN12, my hope is that students will:

- Root their faith in Jesus through engaging teaching and meaningful discussions.
- Build authentic friendships in a safe and welcoming community.
- Experience God's presence through worship, prayer, and small groups.
- Live out their calling by serving and using their gifts in the church and beyond.

Each Wednesday night, students gather for teaching, worship, and small group time. TEN12 provides a space where 10th-12th graders can build meaningful friendships, explore their faith, and be supported by leaders who genuinely care about them. In this environment, students are encouraged to engage in real and honest conversations about faith and life, discovering together what it looks like to follow Jesus in their everyday lives.

SIGN UP

ALL 10th-12th graders are welcome to sign up for TEN12. This provides us with your most recent information and also allows us to place students into small groups.

A NOTE FROM ANDRA

I know that discipleship is a partnership between the church and the home, and I want to keep you informed and supported along the way. You can expect regular communication about upcoming events, teaching series, and ways to stay connected.

Thank you for trusting us with your student. I am eager to see how God will move in their lives this year through TEN12. It is my deep desire that every student feels seen, known, and deeply loved by the Creator of the universe, and that each student understands and believes they were made on purpose and for a purpose.

Please don't hesitate to reach out to me with any questions or if there are specific ways I can support your family. I would love to get to know you (if I don't already) as we partner together to teach these students about, and point them to, the one who created them, knows them, and loves them deeply.
