

BUN BED, DESIGN: FEDERICA BIASI

Inspired by the shape of an Asian bao bun, Federica Biasi's BUN series embodies a unique and unconventional design. BUN is minimal, yet far from inconspicuous – its form is distinctive and effortlessly relaxed. A touch of sporty casualness makes every model in the series incredibly inviting, while its balanced proportions blend seamlessly into nearly any setting. Luckily, Wittmann has successfully managed to scale this graceful form into new dimensions: with BUN Petit, the armchair and sofa gain a compact addition, and with BUN Bed, sleep becomes the ultimate restorative ritual.

A bed like a nest: With BUN, Federica Biasi seeks to turn sleep into the ultimate act of relaxation. Soft and welcoming, the bed base gently curves around the mattress, holding it securely in place while creating a deep sense of comfort and protection. BUN is free of edges and corners – the flowing transitions of the generously wide frame are executed with artisanal precision.

With its organic design, BUN Bed brings a whole new silhouette to the bedroom while effortlessly integrating into a variety of interior styles. Its well-considered construction and generous dimensions create sculptural proportions – perfect for serving as a freestanding island within a space. The back of the bed is fully upholstered as standard, making it ideal for prominent placement in the room.

From a compact 160 cm double bed to a spacious two-by-two meter lounging surface, the minimalist design that defines the entire BUN series works effortlessly across all sizes, never losing its visual harmony. In such a nest, it's only natural to want to linger a little longer – so why not enjoy your morning coffee right there?

To make that possible, Federica Biasi and Wittmann came up with a clever solution: a beautifully crafted board, luxuriously upholstered in leather, is available as an optional extra. Inserted between the mattress and the bed base, it rests securely on the broad frame and serves as a practical and aesthetically pleasing tray or side surface.

"Wittmann's expertise in handcrafted upholstery, combined with a commitment to precision and durability, creates the perfect foundation for transforming creative ideas into long-lasting pieces."
