Laghi Desk

The Laghi collection expands with the introduction of the desk, which takes up and reworks its distinctive stylistic features. The natural forms, inspired by the bodies of water and the tranquil landscape of the Lake District, in the United Kingdom, are translated here into a new function, maintaining expressive continuity and design identity. The composition is defined by an asymmetrical insert, available in wood, marble, or leather, which introduces a material and perceptual variation. The top, with its soft lines, integrates a custom drawer system and is supported by two wooden legs, which connect the natural grain of the material with the lacquered surface. The possibility of combining wood finishes, insert materials, and lacquers allows for extensive customisation while maintaining formal consistency and stylistic identity.
