SALESHEET

Our imagination traveled to an uncontaminated planet of rocky landscapes, swept by powerful winds. On the black canvas of outer space, a lunar scenery of dust, craters, and rocks. We were surrounded by sidereal sand, energy, and movement.

Chunks of brass, crystal, and moonstone interacting with each other in a creative frenzy. We were envisioning surreal shapes cast out from the lunar material, to create the Moonstone collection, and bring it back to Earth.

Each lamp emits a soft and open flow downwards, while the external texture is opaque, with its faceted silhouette becoming sculptural when teased by the beams of light.

A composition with eclectic shapes, full and sculptural bodies are handmade with innovative materials, such as fiberglass and marble powder creating a stone-like composite surface. The glass diffuser is made with the traditional Murano "battuto" technique.
