PROJECTS

The Unified Project — Founder

- The unified project was a political movement group that started my senior year in highschool when the youth at Northfield High School needed a leader to help understand political movements. What I did with all of the knowledge I had of every movement, trend and social problem fleeing around the world I got a group of believers to understand and familiarize to themselves on how we could help benefit the good movements not only with the school but around the world, and how it could make a change in the world.
