WHERE EVERY LOT IS PART OF THE BIGGER PICTURE

At Heritage Walk, home sites aren't just mapped—they're masterfully composed. Each lot is part of a larger vision to create rhythm, beauty, and flow across the neighborhood. Inspired by Traditional Neighborhood Design, every decision about placement serves a deeper purpose: to foster harmony between homes, enhance daily living, and celebrate the human experience of space.

While many developments prioritize efficiency, Heritage Walk chooses intentionality. Porches face porches. Greenways connect rather than divide. Pocket parks emerge naturally from the layout—not as afterthoughts, but as central features.

Though the variety may suggest a collection of boutique builders, each home is crafted by one award-winning local builder with deep roots in Chattanooga's architectural legacy. From the city's south side to its most walkable modern communities, this builder has remained focused on creating homes that blend historical charm with everyday livability.
