

STN Information Keep & Share Program<sup>SM</sup>

TULSA Database

These STN Keep & Share Program – TULSA terms and conditions are in addition to the STN Information Keep & Share Program General Database Terms and Conditions. The following TULSA (the “Database Provider”) use and distribution restrictions (the “Restrictions”) apply to the STN customer and its users’ (collectively, the “Customer”) use of the TULSA Database file on STN (the “Database”). In the event of any conflict between the terms of these Restrictions and the STN Information Keep & Share Program General Database Terms and Conditions, these Database Provider terms shall control.

Any use of the Database outside the rights set forth below without the express written permission of the Database Provider is strictly prohibited. These terms and conditions are subject to change from time to time at the discretion of Database Provider and/or CAS, and such changes will be effective immediately upon notice or publication of changes.

Recipient shall obtain Database Producer's specific written permission for any uses of computer-readable search results other than those listed here. In the event a subscription is not renewed or is terminated for any reason, all computer-readable TULSA file material in the possession of the subscriber, on any media and in any form, must be certified as deleted or destroyed by the subscriber at the end of the final term of the subscription. Access to the TULSA file is restricted to licensed Petroleum Abstracts subscribers. The TULSA2 file, which is identical to the TULSA file, but without abstracts, may be accessed by non-subscribers for up to 2 connect hours cumulative per calendar year for all facilities of the non-subscriber's organization and its subsidiaries worldwide.
