Past Experiences

I was blown away by the generosity and faith of everyone we met in Uganda. The poverty is endless and profound, but the people who have been taught about Jesus are so grateful and joyful for their salvation. The trip changed my perspective on what really matters; the true treasure isn't what we have on Earth, its our relationship with Jesus.

Past Experiences

I had no idea how my life would change after a trip to Uganda. It was an amazing experience to see the beautiful things Christians are doing in East Africa, to hear their stories, and to now call many of them my true friends. I love seeing first-hand the organizations that our church supports and observing them in action as they improve thousands of lives through their ministry. I am proud to know that our church partners with true change makers. The culture, colors and people are vibrant. Uganda is now a part of my heart and my daily prayers.

Past Experiences

It's striking how you think you know what to expect on your first trip to Uganda—especially after visiting places like Cuba and Haiti—but the reality is completely different. Touring village after village, you meet some of the happiest people you've ever encountered, especially the children, and you see firsthand how New City Church's mission in East Africa is reaching those who have never heard the name of Jesus. What we might call extreme poverty is, for many there, the beginning of a better life, and with the most limited resources they accomplish things that leave you humbled and inspired. The 2027 trip to Uganda will reshape your understanding of faith, open your eyes to how God moves in places the world overlooks, and give you a deeper vision of the miracles He is working every day.
