Comedian Jeff Allen's "My 'Second' Final Farewell Tour"

Nashville, Tennessee - Jeff Allen may or may not want to admit it, but he's getting old. At 70, Jeff is thinking it might be time to slow down. The result? My 'Second' Final Farewell Tour. Yes, you read that right - "First" and "Final" in the same sentence - because Jeff's not totally sure he's done. (After all, Cher had twenty farewell tours, and Elton John is still out there.)

What he is sure of: he's bringing a mix of fan-favorites and fresh new material to the stage. From the classic Happy Wife Happy Life routine you've been quoting for years, to fresh takes on marriage, family, and everyday life, Jeff is pulling it all together for a night that's hilarious, unforgettable, and uplifting.

When people talk about what makes Jeff Allen special, they often refer to how relatable his comedy is. Or about the sublime craftmanship in his act (he's now in his sixth decade as a comedian). Or that he can spend 90 minutes on stage and not say anything you wouldn't want your grandchild to hear.

And while that's all true, perhaps the most remarkable aspect of Jeff Allen can be measured in "laughs per minute." Simply put, you would be hard-pressed to find a comedian that delivers more laugh-out-loud moments more consistently than Jeff Allen.

On this tour, My 'Second' Final Farewell, Jeff's hilarious comedy drives home the humor in everyday life: the ups and downs of marriage, the challenge of raising children, and the joys of being a grandparent.

The tour pulls some of the funniest parts of his book Are We There Yet? In both the book and the tour, Jeff hilariously (and sometimes emotionally) takes us on the rollercoaster ride his life and career took before he found redemption.

Jeff Allen is one of America's most beloved comedians, with over two billion online views, over two million followers across social media, and a record-setting seven Dry Bar Comedy specials. He has appeared everywhere - on Comedy Central, Showtime, TBN, CBN, Family Net, Dry Bar Comedy (their most viewed comedian - with seven comedy specials), America's Got Talent, HBO, Amazon Prime, Huckabee, Pureflix, VH-1, The Today Show, and starred in the films Apostles of Comedy and My 7 Grandmas. He has performed for our troops on aircraft carriers and ships in the Indian Ocean. Jeff has also performed at three Presidential Inaugural Galas. Millions have seen him across Facebook, Instagram, TikTok, and YouTube. But nothing compares to seeing Jeff live. He is presently in pre-production for his new series based on his book, Are We There Yet?
