- create and maintain an environment that promotes the interests of Plan Members and Beneficiaries;
- provide high quality, cost effective service to Plan Members and Beneficiaries; and
- provide effective and efficient governance processes.

Effective date

Q. When did the Plan become effective?

- A. The effective date of the Plan is January 1, 1974. It operated as a brotherhood system from inception to December 31, 1993.

Effective January 1, 1994, it was converted to a quasi-hour bank system. Shortly thereafter, it became a full hour bank system retroactive to January 1, 1994. This booklet includes all revisions through to May 1, 2025.

Eligibility

Q. Who was eligible, AT the effective date of the Plan?

A. Persons who were members of the IBEW Local 586 on January 1, 1974 were eligible to join the Plan as of that date.

Q. Who is eligible, AFTER the effective date of the Plan?

A. If you became a Member of the IBEW Local 586 after January 1, 1974, you are eligible to join the Plan on the date of your employment.

Employees of the Union, owners, electrical contractors and their salaried workers are also eligible to join this Plan, subject to approval by the Board of Trustees, effective on the first day of the month coincident with or next following the date of employment or on January 1, 1974, whichever is later.

Enrolment

Q. How do I enrol?

A. You must complete a registration form and submit it to the Plan administrator. Forms are available on the Plan's website, from the Union hall or the Plan administrator's office.

Beneficiary designation

Q. How do I designate a Beneficiary or submit a change of address, marital status or Beneficiary?

A. The registration form is used to notify the Plan administrator of a change of personal information including a change to your address, marital status and/or Beneficiary designation. Completing a form every time a change is required and submitting it to the Plan administrator will ensure that your file is handled properly.

Participation

Q. Is participation in the Plan mandatory?

- A. Yes. As a condition of employment and as specified in your Collective agreement, all eligible Members must become Members of the Pension Plan.

Contributions

Q. How is the Plan funded?

- A. The Plan is funded through Employer contributions made at the hourly rate determined in your Collective agreement. The contribution rate may change from time to time, as negotiated.

Q. Can I make voluntary contributions?

- A. No.

Q. Will Pension contributions continue to be made on my behalf while on parental leave?

- A. Yes. Employer contributions to the Pension Plan will be made while you are on parental leave in accordance with Clause 900 J.10 of the Principal Collective Agreement.

Q. Will Pension contributions continue to be made on my behalf if I collect long-term disability benefits?

- A. No. With the exception of the one-year extension while on WSIB, benefits will not accrue during the period of long-term disability.

Q. If I go on WSIB do I continue to accrue Pension benefits?

- A. Under Bill 162, if you are absent from work due to employment injury or illness, you are entitled to have benefits accrue for a maximum of one year. You must provide copies of the letter of approval from WSIB and copies of the WSIB pay stubs as proof of your eligibility. Your account will be credited with 144 hours for every full month you are in receipt of WSIB benefits to a maximum of 12 months. Partial months will be pro-rated.

Q. If I participate in the Plan, how do I know how much I can contribute to my RRSP?

- A. The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) issues an annual notice of assessment indicating your RRSP contribution limit for the taxation year using your earnings and the Pension Adjustment for the previous year.

Q. What is the Pension Adjustment (PA)?

- A. The CRA introduced measures to equalize the amount you may contribute to your retirement savings in a given year, regardless of the type of plan under which you are covered. The PA is the amount by which your RRSP contribution limit is reduced in recognition of the value of benefit accruals under the Pension Plan. The higher the value placed on your accrued Pension benefits each year, the lower your RRSP contribution room, and vice versa. Your PA is reported each year in Box 52 of your T4 slip.

Q. How is my PA calculated?

- A. The PA is calculated in accordance with the terms of the Income Tax Act. Your Plan qualifies as a specified multi-employer plan (SMEP). As such, the value of your PA is simply the contributions made to the Plan on your behalf in a given year.

Q. Who reports the PA?

- A. Your Employer(s) is(are) responsible for reporting the PA on your T4 slip, including periods while on parental leave. If you qualify for WSIB benefits and accrue Pension benefits during the first 12 months of your claim, the Plan administrator will report the PA.

Vesting

Q. Do Employer contributions made on my behalf belong to me?

- A. Employer contributions made on your behalf must be used to provide a monthly Pension at Retirement. Vesting is immediate. You do not receive your Employer Contributions as a lump sum.

Locking-in

Q. When do my Pension benefits become “locked-in” under the legislation?

- A. All required contributions that have been made by the Employer(s) as well as the accumulated Pension benefit credits are locked-in.

This means that on termination or Retirement, you must elect an option that will provides a monthly Pension payable for your life when you retire. The value of your Deferred Pension cannot be withdrawn in a lump sum cash settlement unless:

1. the amount of Pension accrued is less than 4% of the YMPE as defined yearly by the Canada Pension Plan/Quebec Pension Plan (CPP/QPP).
2. the Commuted value of your Deferred Pension is less than 20% of the YMPE in the year you terminate membership in the Plan.

Unlocking locked-in funds

Q. Is there any way for me to access the locked-in funds directly from the Plan?

- A. If you suffer from an illness or physical disability that is likely to shorten your life expectancy to less than two years, you may apply to unlock your Pension funds from the Pension Plan. Application must be made on the Prescribed form (Form 5 issued by the Financial Services Regulatory Authority of Ontario) and filed with the Plan Administrator.

It is important to note that, except for shortened life expectancy, other unlocking options are not available while your funds are in the Pension Plan. You must first terminate your membership in the Plan and transfer your account balance to an Ontario LIRA or LIF.

Benefits on termination

Q. When can I terminate my membership in the Plan?

- A. Termination or Cessation of membership in the Plan is permitted once you have ceased employment for a participating Employer and no contributions are due on your behalf for a Continuous period of at least 24 months. You may not terminate your membership while you are deemed totally and permanently disabled as defined in this booklet, or while you are in receipt of WSIB benefits.

Q. What are my options on termination?

- A. If your membership in the Plan terminates while you are entitled to a Deferred Pension benefit, you may transfer the Commuted value of the Deferred Pension benefit either:

1. to the Pension Fund related to another Pension plan registered under the Pension Benefits Act of Ontario, if the administrator of the other Pension plan agrees to accept the payment; or
2. to a locked-in retirement account (LIRA); or
3. to a life income fund (LIF); or
4. to purchase a deferred life annuity or immediate life annuity.

Q. If I terminate my membership in the Plan, may I leave the Pension benefit credit in the Plan until Retirement?

A. Yes. You may leave your accrued Pension benefit in the Plan until you are ready to Retire. Please note your Pension payments must commence by the end of the year you attain age 71 as required by the Income Tax Act.

Q. How do I apply to transfer funds from the Plan?

A. To apply to transfer funds, contact the Plan administrator for a termination package and complete the necessary form(s).

Q. If I remain in the electrical industry but transfer my union membership to another local or to the Commission de Construction du Quebec (CCQ), can I transfer the Pension benefit credit to that new local?

A. Yes. You may apply for a permanent transfer of the Actuarial equivalent of your Pension benefit to the new home local in accordance with the National Reciprocal Agreement. All future hours remitted to the Electrical Industry of Ottawa Pension Plan while you are working in its jurisdiction will be reciprocated to your new home local if you proceed with a permanent transfer. You may also apply for a temporary transfer of the hours you worked in the Ottawa jurisdiction while your union membership is with another local or the CCQ.

Retirement dates

Q. What is the Normal Retirement date?

A. Normal Retirement date is the first day of the month coincident with or following your 65th birthday. You may Retire as early as age 60 without penalty. Age 60 is known as the unreduced early Retirement date. You must advise the Plan administrator of your Retirement date at least 30 days prior to your Retirement date.

Q. What is the early Retirement date?

- A. You may Retire on the first day of any month following or coincident with your attainment of age 55. The Pension will be reduced by 0.5% for each month by which your Retirement date precedes your attainment of age 60.

The amount of monthly Pension you will receive will be equal to the amount of Pension which would otherwise be payable at age 60, reduced by the following percentage:

Age at retirement	Percentage reduction
60	0%
59	6%
58	12%
57	18%
56	24%
55	30%

Early Retirement example

Reduction: 6% per year

Your age	Reduced monthly pension
59	$3,000.00 x 94% = $2,820.00
58	$3,000.00 x 88% = $2,640.00
57	$3,000.00 x 82% = $2,460.00
56	$3,000.00 x 76% = $2,280.00
55	$3,000.00 x 70% = $2,100.00

Note:

If you Retire early, the early Retirement penalty will apply as long as the Pension is payable. The unreduced amount will not be reinstated upon attaining age 60 or 65.

The normal form of Pension is a single life annuity with a five-year guarantee.

Q. What are my options if I become disabled prior to Retirement?

- A. If you are at least 50 years of age and have suffered from a total and permanent disability for a Continuous period of not less than 119 days you may, subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees, retire under Disability Retirement provision until your attainment of age 65 or until the end of your period of disability, whichever comes first. To be considered totally and permanently disabled for the purposes of this Plan, you must have medical evidence, certified by a qualified medical practitioner, confirming that a condition of total and permanent disability exists. The evidence must not be more than six months old at the time of your application. In addition, the Trustees reserve the right to request proof of your application and qualification for WSIB, long-term disability and Canada Pension Plan or Quebec Pension Plan (CPP/QPP) disability benefits.

Note:

You may be eligible to collect both disability benefits and your Pension benefit at the same time if your total disability income does not exceed the maximum percentage of your pre-disability earnings (established by the source of your disability benefits).

“Totally and permanently disabled” means suffering from a physical or mental impairment that prevents you from engaging in any employment for which you are suited by your education, training or experience and that can reasonably be expected to last for the remainder of your lifetime.

The amount of your temporary disability benefit will be equal to the amount of Pension accrued to the date of your disability benefit eligibility date, without reduction. You must elect an optional form at your Disability Retirement Date.

Q. What happens if I am disabled and reach age 65?

A. Upon attainment of age 65, you will continue to receive the same amount of pension as you elected at your Disability Retirement Date.

Q. May I postpone my Retirement date beyond age 65?

A. Yes, you may postpone your Retirement date beyond age 65. The CRA requires that all Pensions commence payment by the end of the year in which you attain age 71. In the event that you made application for your Pension after your Normal Retirement date, your Pension will not commence retroactively to your Normal Retirement date but will commence on the first day of the month following the month in which you last worked, or the first of the month in which the Retirement application is received by the Plan Administrator, whichever is later. Furthermore, payment will be made without any interest adjustment or actuarial adjustment on the deferred payments. If you have ceased employment, there is no advantage to waiting to apply for your Pension beyond age 60. You must advise the Plan administrator of your postponed Retirement date at least 30 days prior to that date.

Q. May I return to work once I begin to draw my Pension?

A. When you first apply for Retirement benefits, you will be required to complete and sign a mandatory IBEW Local 586 Rules Acknowledgement form. This form outlines the IBEW Local 586 rules concerning employment following Retirement and the accrual of additional Pension benefits.

When you attain your early or Normal Retirement age, apply for Pension benefits, and receive them in the form of a monthly Pension or as a lump sum transfer to a life income fund (LIF) or locked-in retirement account (LIRA), you will no longer be considered an active member of the bargaining unit and will not be eligible for hire through the local Union hiring hall.

If you wish to return to active status in the bargaining unit and return to work after the effective date of your Retirement, you will be required to suspend your monthly Pension and sign the IBEW Local 586 out-of-work list. The suspended payments will be forfeited, and you will not be entitled to a refund of the Employer contributions made on your behalf under the Collective agreement to which you are party. Any guarantee period associated with your chosen form of Pension will not be adjusted because of your suspension of Pension payments and will be calculated from your initial date of Retirement.

It is your responsibility to contact the Plan administrator to advise when you wish to return to a Retiree status and collect your monthly Pension. Payments will resume and will include Pension benefit credits for hours remitted to the Pension Plan during the period of re-employment following receipt of the final Pension contribution from the participating Employer and once you have been removed from the hiring hall call list.

Applying for your Pension

Q. How do I apply for my Pension?

- A. Once you have decided on a Retirement date, notify the Plan administrator at least one month in advance, by completing Monthly Pension Application. Once the Plan Administrator received your completed Monthly Pension Application, they will send you the retirement package for completion. You may schedule a meeting with the Plan Administrator to assist you with completing the retirement package.

Q. Can I discuss my retirement options with the plan administrator?

- A. Yes, arrangements may be made by contacting the Plan Administrator and making an appointment. Spouses are encouraged to attend.

Q. Can I discuss my retirement options and other financial matters with a financial advisor?

- A. Yes, the Plan Administrator's individual financial services (IFS) team can assist you. You may arrange an appointment to discuss your retirement, financial planning, estate planning, investments, life insurance and other financial matters.

To allow sufficient time for a proper consultation and thorough planning, it is recommended that you arrange to discuss your pre-retirement planning and investment strategies at least three to five years prior to your anticipated retirement date.

You should also visit your financial advisor six months prior to your effective date of retirement or when your financial, marital or employment situation changes.

Contact the IFS Team at 204-954-7300 or ifs@element.ca.

Q. Must I submit proof of age or marriage?

- A. Yes. You are required to furnish proof of your date of birth before any Pension payments are made to you. If you elect a type of Pension that depends on the survivorship of your Spouse, you are required to furnish proof of age of your Spouse as well as a copy of the marriage certificate, if applicable, and a declaration of marital status.

Form of Pension

Q. What is the normal form of Pension?

A. The normal form of Pension is a single life Pension with a five-year guarantee. The benefit is paid for your lifetime. Should you die within five years (60 months) of your effective date of Retirement, payments will continue to your designated Beneficiary or estate, until a total of 60 monthly payments have been made. Your Beneficiary may elect to have the remainder of the guaranteed payments commuted and paid in one lump sum.

Q. What form of Pension must I elect if I have a Spouse?

A. If you have a Spouse at Retirement and are not living separate and apart from your Spouse, you must choose a joint and survivor Pension where the amount continuing to your Spouse following your death is not less than 60%. The monthly Pension will be the Actuarial equivalent to the normal form of Pension. Your Spouse may waive his/her rights to a survivor Pension. Please refer to the Spousal waivers section of this booklet for more information.

Q. What other forms of Pension are available?

A. The Plan provides other optional forms of Pension as follows:

1. Single life Pension with a minimum guaranteed period

Under this form of payment, you will receive a monthly income as long as you live. In addition, should you die before a specified number of payments have been made (usually 60, 120 or 180), the remaining payments are continued to a named Beneficiary or estate.

Example:

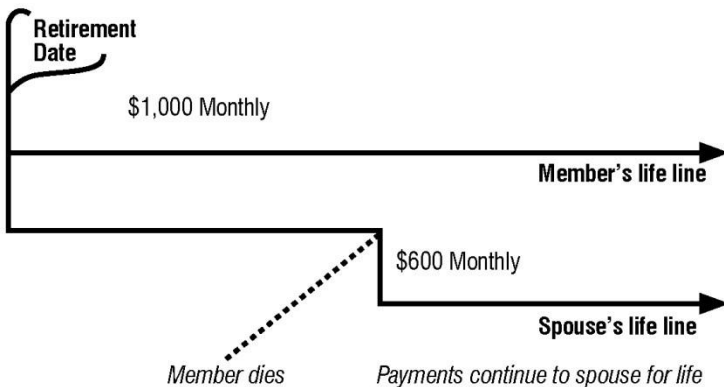

If you choose a life Pension with a 10-year guarantee, you will receive a monthly payment as long as you live, with the provision that if you die before receiving 120 monthly payments, your named Beneficiary or estate will continue to receive the balance of your monthly payments until a total of 120 payments have been made. The present value of the remaining payments may be paid in a lump sum as an alternative to the continuation of monthly instalments. Once this provision has been met, no further payment will be made.

2. Joint and survivor Pension

Under this form of payment, you will receive a monthly income as long as you live. Should you predecease your Spouse at Date of Retirement, the payments will continue to your Spouse at the chosen percentage for the Spouse's lifetime. When both you and your Spouse are deceased, payments cease.

Your Plan offers survivor benefits of 60% or 100% of the amount payable immediately prior to your death.

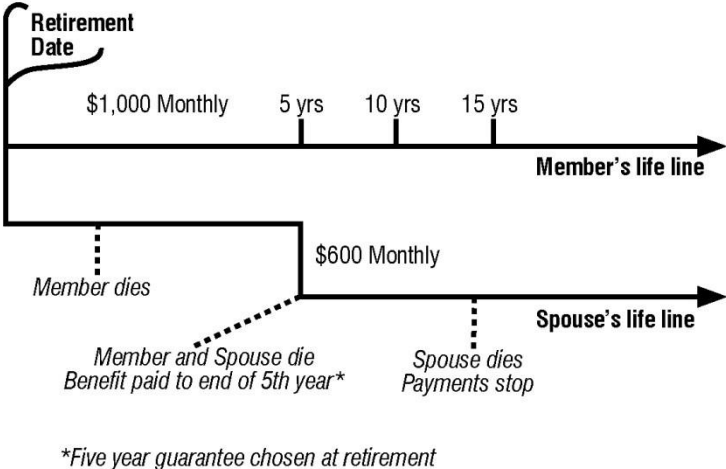

3. Joint and survivor Pension with a guaranteed payment period

Under this form of payment, you will receive a monthly income as long as you live. Should you predecease your Spouse at Date of Retirement, the payments will continue to your Spouse at the full amount until the end of the chosen guarantee period, at which time, they will reduce according to the level of survivor benefit chosen and continue for your Spouse's lifetime. Your plan offers joint Pension with a survivor benefit of 60% or 100% of the amount payable immediately prior to your death.

If both you and your Spouse die after the chosen guarantee period, payments cease. If both you and your Spouse die within the guarantee period, the payments will continue to the designated Beneficiary or estate until the end of the chosen guarantee period. The amount of Pension income you would receive under Option 2 or 3 is less than the single life Pension with or without guarantee periods as there is a provision for payments to continue to a joint survivor for life as well.

If you have a Spouse at Retirement and are not living separate and apart from your Spouse, pension laws require that you take a reduced Pension which continues to your Spouse (including common-law partner) at a minimum level of 60% on your death. The only exception is if your Spouse agrees to waive his or her rights to a survivor Pension. This can only be done by your Spouse completing a special spousal waiver form which is available from the Plan administrator or the FSRA's website.

Amount of Pension

Q. How much of a monthly Pension will I receive at Retirement?

- A. The amount of monthly Pension you receive at Retirement will depend on two factors:
1. the number of years of eligible Credited service you have between the inception of the Plan and January 1, 1994; and
 2. the number of hours of Credited service you work on or after January 1, 1994, and prior to Retirement.

The Plan operated as a brotherhood system from inception to December 31, 1993. Effective January 1, 1994, it was converted to a quasi-hour bank system. Shortly thereafter, it became a full hour bank system retroactive to January 1, 1994.

Under the brotherhood system, all members in good standing with the IBEW Local 586 received the same Credited service regardless of the number of hours worked. Eligible Credited service is determined as the number of completed years and months from the later of January 1, 1974, or your entry date to the Plan up to and including December 31, 1993.

Under the hour bank system, members will receive one hour of Credited service for each hourly contribution made by their employer in accordance with the Journeyperson hourly rate defined in the ICI Collective Agreement.

It is important to note that you must maintain your membership in the IBEW to participate in the Pension Plan, but the payment of union dues does not guarantee any benefits or serve to fund any of the benefits payable under the Electrical Industry of Ottawa Pension Plan.

Q. Will my Pension be adjusted for increases in the cost of living?

A. No. Your Pension is not indexed.

Q. Does this Pension affect my entitlement to CPP or OAS benefits?

A. No. The Pension you earn with the Electrical Industry of Ottawa Pension Plan is payable in addition to the Canada Pension Plan or Quebec Pension Plan (CPP/QPP) and Old Age Security (OAS).

Death benefits

Q. What happens to the Pension benefit credits that I have accumulated if I die before Retirement?

- A. If you die before the commencement of your Pension, and have a surviving Spouse at the time, your Spouse is entitled:
1. to receive a lump sum payment equal to the Commuted value of the Deferred Pension; or
 2. to purchase an immediate or Deferred Pension, the Commuted value of which is at least equal to the Commuted value of the Deferred Pension. The benefit must begin no later than one year following your death and the end of the calendar year in which your surviving Spouse attains 71 years of age; or
 3. to purchase a registered retirement income fund (RRIF) that meets the requirements under the Income Tax Act; or
 4. to transfer the Commuted value to the Pension Fund related to another pension plan registered under the Pension Benefits Act of Ontario if the administrator of the other pension plan agrees to accept the payment; or
 5. to transfer the Commuted value to a registered retirement savings plan (RRSP) arrangement as Prescribed under the Act.

These provisions do not apply if you and your Spouse are living separate and apart at the date of your death, or if your Spouse signed a waiver of pre-Retirement death benefit prior to your death.

Where no surviving Spouse exists, or where you and your Spouse are living separate and apart, your designated Beneficiary or estate will receive the Commuted value in a lump sum cash settlement.

Q. How long does my Spouse have to decide on his/her options after my death?

- A. The law requires a surviving Spouse to notify the Plan administrator and decide on the necessary forms within 90 days from the date of death.

Q. If I am married, can I designate a Beneficiary other than my Spouse?

- A. Yes, you may designate a Beneficiary other than your Spouse. However, to do so, your Spouse must complete a spousal waiver where the Spouse gives up all rights to a benefit on your death. These forms are available at the Plan administrator's office and must be filed with the Plan administrator prior to your death.

Q. What happens to my Pension if I die after Retirement?

- A. If you die after you begin receiving a monthly Pension, the amount of any further benefit will be determined by the form of Pension you chose at Retirement.

Upon your death, the Plan may pay the Commuted value of the joint and survivor Pension to the your Spouse at Date of Retirement if, at the date of your death:

1. the annual benefit payable is not more than 4% of the YMPE; or
2. the Commuted value of the benefit is less than 20% of the YMPE.

Your surviving Spouse may require the Plan administrator to pay the Commuted value into a registered retirement savings arrangement by delivering a direction to the Plan administrator within the Prescribed period.

Q. Is the death benefit taxable?

- A. Yes. The death benefit is taxable in the year received. If your surviving Spouse wishes to defer the taxation, the Commuted value may be transferred to a registered retirement savings plan. This option is not available to a Beneficiary other than your surviving Spouse.

Credit splitting on divorce, annulment or separation

Q. Is my Spouse entitled to any portion of my Pension on relationship breakdown?

A. Yes, under the Ontario provincial property law, your Spouse is entitled to a maximum of 50% of the Pension benefit credits that you accumulated while married or in a common-law relationship. The Pension Plan administrator shall request such information as is required to calculate and pay the Pension or Pension benefit. Such information may include the sections of the court order, separation agreement or other document addressing the division of property on breakdown of your spousal relationship.

Your former Spouse may receive an immediate payment of his/her share of the Pension assets, either as a lump sum transfer or a division of monthly Pension payments. In any case, the Pension benefit credits assigned to your Spouse continue to be subject to the lock-in provisions.

Valuation of Pension assets

The valuation of Pension assets will be calculated by the Plan administrator, in accordance with formulas set out in Regulation 287/11 (Family Law Matters) under the Pension Benefits Act of Ontario.

You must apply directly to the Plan administrator to get the valuation of Pension assets, using the Prescribed application for Family Law Value forms.

The Plan administrator will charge a fee ($600 plus HST) to provide the calculations.

Subsequent Spouse

In the event you remarry, your subsequent Spouse has no entitlement to the benefits assigned to your former Spouse(s).

Spousal waivers

Pension legislation protects the rights of your Spouse. It is important for you to realize that your Spouse or common-law partner is entitled to different types of Pension benefits at different times during your membership in the Plan. For example, although your Spouse may agree to waive his/her entitlement to a pre-Retirement death benefit, this does not affect his/her entitlement to Pension benefits on relationship breakdown, or on your death after Retirement.

There are basically three triggering events:

1. legal separation or divorce;
2. retirement; and
3. death.

Three distinct waivers are required. On legal separation or divorce, your former Spouse is entitled to a maximum of 50% of the assets accumulated during the relationship. On Retirement, you must select a form of Pension which will provide a survivor Pension of at least 60% of the amount payable prior to your death. On death prior to Retirement, your surviving Spouse is entitled to 100 per cent of the assets in your account, less any assets which were previously assigned to a former Spouse or common-law partner.

Please contact the Plan administrator for assistance with any of these issues.

Remarriage

If the Spouse of a deceased Former Member or Retired Member is receiving a Pension under the Pension Plan, he/she is still entitled to receive a Pension under the Pension Plan, despite becoming the Spouse of another person. Moreover, if the member has a new spouse after he/she retired, their pension form elected at date of retirement remains unchanged and any survivor pension under the joint and survivor P form will not be paid to the new spouse. It is recommended the separation of the members and their former spouse be finalized by going through the Family Law Valuation process outlined under the FSRA's website to settle the pension division to avoid any confusion in death benefits' entitlement.

Maximum Transfer Limit under the Income Tax Act

The Income Tax Acts set limits on transfer values from the pension plan into tax-sheltered retirement vehicles. If your Commuted Value of your deferred pension is greater than the Maximum Transfer Limit, the excess amount must be paid to you as lump sum cash refund (less withholding tax).

Restriction on entitlement

An entitlement to a benefit under this Plan is subject to any rights to or interest in the benefit set out in an order made under Part I (Family Property) of the Family Law Act, a family arbitration award or a Domestic contract.

Assignment

Q. Can I use my Pension benefits as collateral to borrow money? Can my Pension benefits be seized on bankruptcy?

A. No. The law prohibits the assignment of any Pension benefits, except in the case of relationship breakdown. This provision is for your protection and is intended to ensure that you will receive a Pension when you Retire.

Rights to information

Q. How will I know how much Pension I have accumulated?

A. Each year, the Plan administrator will forward to your home address a Pension statement outlining the amount of your Pension, your Retirement dates, the name of your Beneficiary, etc. It is important that the information on this statement be accurate. If this is not the case, notify the Plan administrator immediately.

Q. Once an amendment to the Plan has been made, will I be notified?

A. Yes, once a Plan Amendment has been registered with the FSRA, the Plan administrator has 60 days to notify you in writing.

Q. As a new member enrolling in the Plan, what information is provided?

- A. You are entitled to receive a booklet outlining the general provisions of the Plan. You are also entitled to inspect the registered documents with the FSRA on written request.

Q. What other sources of information am I entitled to receive?

- A. On termination, Retirement, or death, you or your surviving Spouse will receive a written statement of your entitlements and options.

Once a year, you are also entitled to inspect or copy all documents that support or relate to the Plan and its operation. You must file a written request to the Plan administrator to review or obtain a copy of the documents. The Plan administrator is entitled to charge a reasonable fee for any copies that are provided. The documents that you may review or copy include but are not limited to:

1. Pension Plan documents and all amendments;
2. previous versions of Plan documents and amendments;
3. documents that set out the Plan sponsor's responsibilities to the Pension Plan;
4. documents appointing a Plan or Fund administrator;
5. copies of all documents required to be filed with the FSRA (i.e. annual information returns, actuarial information summaries, audited financial statements, Trust Agreement and amendments);
6. copy of Statement of Investment Policies and Procedures; and/or
7. copies of all correspondence between the Plan administrator and the FSRA staff, except for correspondence respecting individual Plan Members.

Q. Who should you contact for more information?

- A. The Plan administrator, Ellement, should be contacted for information regarding the Pension Plan.

Administration

Q. Who administers the Pension Plan?

- A. The Board of Trustees of the Electrical Industry of Ottawa Pension Plan is responsible for its administration. The daily administration is handled by Ellement, a third-party administrator.

Q. Can the Plan be changed or discontinued?

A. The Board of Trustees can change the Pension Plan provided:

1. the change does not contravene any provisions of the applicable Collective agreements;
2. the change does not allow the use of any part of the Pension Fund other than for the exclusive use of persons who may be entitled to benefits under the Pension Plan; and
3. the change must be approved by all federal and provincial departments concerned.

If, in any year, the contributions to the Plan are insufficient to meet the cost of the Plan under the minimum solvency provisions stipulated in the Pension Benefits Act of Ontario, the provisions of the Plan will have to be amended.

If the Plan is ever discontinued, all assets of the Trust Fund shall be converted into cash. The cash shall be used as follows:

1. to provide for the continuance of the Pension payments then in effect to Former Members who have Retired, or to their surviving Spouses or Beneficiaries, whichever is applicable; and
2. to provide for the Deferred Pensions to which Former Members have become entitled; and
3. to provide for the Pension benefits, other than those referred to in 1) and 2) above, commencing at the Normal Retirement date that have accrued to Members up to the date of discontinuance. If the cash available for purposes of this clause is not sufficient or is more than sufficient to provide all of the benefits Prescribed, it shall be applied to provide the benefits pro rata to the amount of cash required to provide the entire benefit.

Q. How is Plan financial position monitored?

A. The financial position of your Plan is carefully regulated by the FSRA. An actuarial valuation must be filed with the regulator every three years. To be prudent, conservative assumptions are used. This valuation verifies if the assets are sufficient to meet the Plan obligations and the funding is adequate to provide the benefits promised.

Q. Can benefit improvements be made as a result of these valuations?

A. This depends upon the outcome of the valuation and how the FSRA judges the adequacy of assets and funding levels to meet promised benefit amounts (i.e. the degree the funded ratio is greater than one). Even when the contribution rate has been increased, benefit improvements can only be made if the Plan is deemed to be in a financial position to do so. At certain points, actual Plan results may differ negatively from the assumptions used by the Actuary and funds may need to be used to offset such shortfalls.

Q. Can the Pension benefit be reduced?

A. Yes, under specific conditions, it is possible for your Pension benefit to be reduced. The benefit is provided under a multi-employer pension plan. In addition, it is a defined benefit and the obligations of the Employers to contribute to the Pension Fund are limited to a fixed amount set out in your Collective agreement. There is no recourse funding on the Participating Employers if a funding deficiency is created. Consequently, the Plan is not protected under the Ontario Pension Benefits Guarantee Fund (PBGF) against funding shortfalls. Only single employer plans, where the company is responsible for correcting a funding deficiency, are protected under the PBGF.

If there are insufficient funds in the Pension Plan to pay all the Pension benefits on the wind-up of the Plan, the Pension benefits shall be reduced in a manner Prescribed by the Pension Benefits Act of Ontario. Also, if the latest actuarial valuation determines that the solvency liabilities of the Plan exceed the assets of the Plan and the result is a transfer ratio of less than one, the Plan would not be permitted to transfer 100% of the commuted value of your pension, or pay out 100% of your monthly pension benefit until the solvency deficiency was corrected. All solvency deficiencies must be corrected within a five-year period. Once the deficiency is corrected, the shortfalls are subsequently paid.

The Board of Trustees in adhering to good governance practices is taking all the necessary measures to protect your interest in the Pension Plan and ensure that the Plan remains solvent in all economic environments.
