

One of my favorite faith-building and faith-sustaining quotes is, “Never be afraid to trust an unknown future to a known God,” beautifully penned by Corrie Ten Boom. It has ministered to me through many seasons of uncertainty and change. As Word Up Ministries embarks on a season of change, I’m once again trusting an unknown future to a known God.

Yesterday, I officially filmed my final RTW video and pressed pause. I’ve been flooded with emotions as a glance over into 2026 as I wrestle with my questions than have no answers. What does the future look like Lord? How will I proceed with no team? Do You still have a plan for me and the ministry? What will I do if I’m not writing lessons every day? And you know what? I don’t have specific answers to these questions, but I the assurance that I am not alone and God does have a plan for me.

While I don’t have answers to specific questions, I wanted to share answers to general questions that you have asked. I thought it best to answer in a Q&A format.

Where will I find the RTW Legacy Content?

- RTW content will be homed on our YouTube channel: youtube.com/@wordupministriesorg. Make sure you “like” and “Subscribe” to the channel so you won’t miss announcements and new content when it becomes available. Please notice there is not a “dot” between ministries and org... wordupministriesorg is all together in our Youtube name.

Will my Login Information be the same?

- “Logging in” is a thing of the past. Everyone and anyone everywhere will have access to all the RTW content.

How will I know where to begin and navigate through the content?

- There is a massive amount of content and we are doing our very best to organize it in a way that is easy to navigate. I will host a LIVE meeting on the channel soon to put everyone at ease and help with the change. If you are a subscriber, you will be notified about the meeting through YouTube. I will also send an email with all the information.

Will there still be a Word Up Ministries website?

- Yes. Word Up will still have a website and a store.

What happens to the Determined Conference content I paid for?

- The Determined Conference content will have a home on our YouTube channel as well; however, this content will only be available to those who paid for it. You will receive information on how to access the content when that piece of the puzzle is completed. The conference content is still available for purchase in our store. Thank you for patience regarding this.

How will I keep track of my daily reading?

- Unfortunately, Youtube does not have the capabilities to advance to the next day's reading when you complete the current day. Therefore, I have designed a Daily Reading Check Sheet to make keeping track of your reading schedule seamless. The sheet is will be free and downloadable. It will be emailed to you and available on the RTW Facebook page. Keep your eyes open for it.

Will there be notes for each teaching as well as a place to comment?

- Yes and yes.

Who do I contact should I have trouble getting started or get confused?

- Please send all questions to me: wendy@wordupministries.org.

I have tried to address all the questions that I have received. If you have a question that I didn't address, please email me at wendy@wordupministries.org.

I also want to remind you to purchase your journal and Bible ASAP. The ministry office will be closed the week between Christmas and New Year's Day (December 26 – January 1). My last run to the Post Office will be December 24th, any order placed after the 24th will not be mailed until the first week of January.

Thank you for hanging in there to read this lengthy email. There was so much information to cover. You guys are the best!!!
