AsIAm's Back to Primary School Kit

IRELAND'S AUTISM CHARITY

At the top of the page will be the main topic, such as this

To do list for the night before school

The square with the blue outline is where you put in either images or graphics of a certain task or item related to the topic.

For example, in "To do list for the night before school", your child might need to get their school uniform for the next day, so take a picture of the uniform hung up and put it in the square.

Example

The lines either below or to the side of the squares is where you write a clear sentence to explain either the activity or item relating in the image next to it. You can write the sentence in any way you think would help your child understand the task clearly.

For example, you might write "Hang my uniform up" next to an image of a school uniform, as seen here.

Example

Hang my uniform up

If you are confused about what to do, check the example pages as seen throughout the document. You can print it out and hang it up for your child to see
