

Mr. Gregg Holtmeier

CHIEF COMMERCIAL OFFICER, UNITED RISK

Gregg Holtmeier serves as Vice President of Strategic Development for United Risk, where he leads the firm's mergers and acquisitions, partnership alliances, and broader strategic growth initiatives. In this role, he works across the organization's global platform to identify and execute opportunities that expand distribution, enhance product capabilities, and strengthen United Risk competitive position within the market.

Before joining United Risk, Gregg was a senior leader at BMS, where he played a key role in driving strategic expansion and partnership development. He previously held leadership positions at Guy Carpenter and JLT, focusing on business development, client strategy, and reinsurance placement across diverse markets. With more than two decades of experience in insurance and reinsurance, Gregg has built a reputation for his entrepreneurial mindset, disciplined execution, and ability to turn strategic vision into measurable growth.

Gregg began his career in reinsurance shortly after graduating from Swarthmore College, where he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree. His deep understanding of global reinsurance markets, distribution networks, and capital deployment strategies continues to guide his work as he helps shape United Risk evolving growth strategy.

PRESS CONTACT

press@unitedrisk.global