Healing Artwork by Mantra Healing Art

Artist Seema Barot
By Illuminati

I am an artist who creates through connecting with my soul, a spiritualist at heart that believes art heals. I have been a creative person since childhood and have always had a sense of inner knowing that my life would be connected to art.

I start each painting by setting the scene and connecting to my soul through meditation, with ambient music decorating the atmosphere and candles inviting the spirit world.

I create for myself first with an intention to express my innermost feelings, conscious and subconscious. This process enables me to understand my emotions hence allowing me to take the necessary steps towards my healing. I am on a constant journey of growth and evolution that permeates through my art.

Once I feel ready I pick up my paint brush and give myself the permission to create in the moment. I thoroughly enjoy each brushstroke and the mixing of the pigments. I'm inspired by the opportunity to create art that makes me feel a sense of deep satisfaction and enlightenment. (Other feelings come to me are - Grounded, Healed, Creative, Awe, Surprise, pride - If you need more words)

The creation of art for me is my form of meditation and it offers me guidance and connection to my higher self .As I curate the piece it unravels in front of me, it speaks to me and opens up another world which I now want others to experience.

For over 30 years, I have been in the Interior Design business and have established my company, Mantra Design London. My company specialises in luxury Bespoke Interiors where I have served people by imbuing their personal and professional spaces.

With this experience I feel it's now the right time for me to express my creativity through my first art collection titled Soul Expressions.

Titled "Infinite Genesis"

Infinite Genesis is an exploration of creation, connection, and the sacred feminine. Rooted in womb energy and inspired by the Seed of Life, this piece celebrates the eternal cycle of growth and rebirth. The flowing feminine form, intertwined with the symbol of infinity and the presence of a bird, speaks to freedom, transformation, and the nurturing power of life. Earthy, autumnal tones evoke grounding, warmth, and the rhythm of nature, inviting the viewer to reflect on their own journey of creation, vulnerability, and renewal.
