EIDERDOWN

THE TRUE ESSENCE OF LUXURY SLEEP

Step into a world of the extraordinary. This duvet is no ordinary bedding – it is a masterpiece of nature, crafted from the most precious down on earth: hand-selected eiderdown from Iceland. Found only in limited quantities – carefully collected from former nests of wild eider ducks. Without interfering with nature. Pure, original, unadulterated. Natural perfection. Noticeable every night.

CRAFTSMANSHIP AND NATURE

The natural beauty of eiderdown

Eiderdown has a unique interlocking structure that forms tiny air chambers – a natural wonder that gently stores heat and, with its lightness, ensures a breathable, comfortable climate. This duvet envelops you in cozy comfort in winter and gentle lightness in summer – temperature-regulating, weightless, incomparably cuddly.

Masterful craftsmanship

Each duvet is created through meticulous artisanal work. Each box is individually filled with the finest Icelandic eiderdown – covered by the purest luxury fabric.

Luxurious comfort

The elegant cover fabric nestles against your skin like a breath of air, regulates moisture and lets you sleep in luxurious freshness.

Timeless elegance & sustainability

A symbol of timeless elegance and sustainable luxury – created for people who don't search for the extraordinary, but expect it.

BARBARY DUCK - QUEEN OF DUCKS

French: Canard de Barbarie

Barbary down and feathers are among the best duck down in the world. Their distinctive features set them apart, with notably large down clusters and unique feathers.

The fine barbs of the down create excellent heat retention and exceptional loft. This exceptional down is characterised by its durability and excellent moisture absorption and transport properties. It is the ideal, high-quality filling material for down comforters, pillows, sleeping bags and down jackets.

The fine down and feathers we use are exclusively from small poultry farms in northwestern France and are certified according to the zero-tolerance Downpass standard.

SLEEP BETTER, NATURALLY – INSPIRED BY GEESE

A goose's plumage is a true masterpiece of nature: it provides reliable protection from cold, heat, and moisture — even in ice and snow. No wonder geese feel comfortable outdoors during winter. Fascinatingly, their feather coat weighs roughly twice as much as their skeleton — a clear testament to its importance. This makes down and feathers ideal for pillows and duvets.

The supportive outer feathers provide structure and stability, while the soft down clusters — with their airy, delicate build — store exceptional warmth without causing heat buildup. This natural combination regulates temperature perfectly, keeps you dry, and creates a pleasant microclimate — essential for restorative sleep. Down is also durable, elastic, and hygienic: it consists of keratin, repels moisture, and provides no habitat for mites. Anyone seeking healthy, restorative sleep benefits from nature's sophisticated protective system — for noticeably greater comfort and well-being night after night.
