COOKIES

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that contain letters and numbers and are placed on your computer or device. Cookies are set when you visit a website that uses cookies. Cookies may be used to keep track of pages visited within the site. Cookies also help you continue where you left off or remember your preferences, such as language settings.

When you enter our websites, you accept our use of cookies. Please see below for a description on how to reject cookies.

2. Why do we use cookies on our websites?

We use cookies and similar technologies to:

- Manage our marketing and provide a better online experience
- Monitor the use of our website
- Track the website performance
- Make our website content more relevant to you

The data will not be used to identify individual visitors.

3. What type of cookies does Heartcore use?

To make it easier for you to understand the way our website uses cookies, we have grouped them into categories. The category to which a cookie belongs can be seen in the cookie panel

Heartcore uses the following cookie types:

- Necessary: These cookies are crucial to the operation of this Heartcore website. These cookies are for instance needed for security and for supporting functionality. Such as remembering the visitor's preferences (that is, language or currency) to ensure that this Heartcore website performs as intended.
- Insights: These cookies are used to collect aggregated visitor behavior on this Heartcore website. These cookies enable us to optimize the website based on how visitors use the website.
- Marketing: These cookies are used to enable functionality from third parties, such as video players, podcasts and social media features.

The updated full cookie overview can at any time be found in the cookie acceptance box in the bottom left corner.

4. Cookie administration

You have two options to control cookies:

1. Control of cookies for marketing and/or statistics
2. Browser settings (option to completely block all cookies)

5. Control of cookies for marketing and/or statistics

You can control cookies in the category of marketing and/or statistics via the cookie panel at the bottom of the page. Cookies for marketing and statistics are not set unless you have given your consent to the use of these cookies.

We use cookies for marketing to provide you with a better experience when you use our website. In addition, we use cookies for statistics to understand your behavior on our website, which is essential to be able to improve and customize your experience.

If you do not give your consent to the use of cookies for marketing and/or statistics, it will prevent all communication and functionality in connection with the associated tools. This means that we will not be able to customize your experience. In the cookie panel at the bottom of the page you have a full overview of the different cookie categories and the individual cookie types. If you choose not to give your consent to the use of cookies for marketing and/or statistics, you can always give your consent later by going to the cookie panel.

6. Browser settings

You can set or change your web browser's functions to accept or reject cookies. If you choose to reject cookies, you can still use our websites and certain services.

Please note that it may affect the functionality of a website if you opt out of cookies. Many of the interactive features that the website offers rely on cookies and blocking or deleting cookies may prevent those features from working or reduce their usability.

Different web browsers may use different methods for handling Cookies. Follow the instructions from the web browser manufacturers below to configure your browser settings:

- Microsoft Edge
- Google Chrome
- Safari
- Firefox

Note: The instructions above are links directly to the web browser manufacturer – no liability can be held against Heartcore Capital if they are incorrect.
