Summary

Base: All respondents

		The UK needs a strong leader now more than ever	UK politicians understand people like me	The UK is currently seen as a laughing stock by the rest of the world	The UK political system is currently not fit for purpose	British values (e.g. respect, freedom of speech, manners) are in decline	The only way to resolve Brexit is for all sides to compromise	Since Brexit, I've started caring more about politics and the news	British people will just get on with things, regardless of the impact of Brexit	I find it difficult to understand people whose lives are very different to mine	Other areas in the UK receive more funding and investment than my own area
