

Key Billing Terms

Medical billing can be confusing. Here's what you need to know:

Explanation of Benefits (EOB)

This is a statement from your insurance showing what was covered.

It's not a bill and requires no action.

Deductible

The amount you pay out-of-pocket before insurance covers costs.

Co-Insurance

Your share of the costs (often a percentage) after your deductible is met.

Out-of-Pocket Costs

The amount you may owe, depending on your insurance plan.

Our Commitment:

We strive to make screening affordable and will work with you to address any concerns.

We're here to help.

Sample Arrives

We'll notify you when your sample arrives, including a link to set up your Patient Portal account.

Explanation of Benefits (EOB)

An EOB from your insurance is not a bill—it shows your claim was processed. You may receive multiple EOBs before processing is complete, but no action is needed from you. We'll contact you if you owe anything.

View Results

In ~2 weeks, we'll notify you when your results are ready. Log into your Patient Portal to view them.

Your Bill

If you have a balance, we'll notify you. Log into your Patient Portal to view your bill, pay in full, set up a payment plan, or apply for financial assistance.

Billing Support

Good news—many patients have no out-of-pocket costs! If you have a balance, our billing team will reach out to explain costs, offer payment plans, or discuss financial assistance.

FAQs

Is UNITY Complete covered by my insurance?

Our billing team at BillionToOne works hard to maximize your insurance benefits. We expect UNITY Complete to be covered by the majority of insurance plans, and we're in-network with many providers. If you have any out-of-pocket costs, we'll contact you to explain your plan and discuss your options.

How much does UNITY cost?

If you have Medicaid, you can receive UNITY Complete at no cost. For other insurance plans, your cost depends on your specific coverage.
