Meet your personal coach

Megan Fox

Megan joined InsideTrack in 2021 as a Success Coach. During her time at ITK, she has gotten certified as a Student Success Specialist and Coaching Developer. She believes in empowering learners to learn how to be their own best advocate and knows firsthand how powerful having a coach in your corner is. Megan holds a Bachelor's Degree in Health Science from Whitworth University and a Master of Studies in Animal Law from Lewis and Clark College. Outside of work, Megan enjoys volunteering at animal sanctuaries, traveling with friends, and reading.

Ariana Klugiewicz

Ariana became a coach because she believes in empowering people with the information they need to take responsibility for their development and success. She graduated from Texas A&M University in Corpus Christi, TX with a major in Art and a minor in Philosophy. Ariana pursued a career as a Health Coach after completing a thru hike of the Appalachian Trail in 2016. Her passion for coaching blossomed as she connected with her clients, and they accomplished and set new goals. She spends time eating as much pizza as she can and participating in self-improvement courses.

Cesar Ramirez

Cesar started coaching with the goal of helping students navigate potential roadblocks on their journey through higher education. Before becoming a coach, he was a high school Language Arts teacher where his desire to help improve the lives of his students first developed. Cesar has years of experience as an educator and community leader and seeks to use these skills in practice every day as a coach. Cesar earned his BA in English and his Secondary Single-Subject teaching credential from the California State University, at Fullerton. In his free time, Cesar enjoys cuddling with his pitbull, Hemingway, reading and writing, cooking, and traveling with his partner.
