EMIRATES NBA CUP 2025

The Emirates NBA Cup is the league's annual in-season competition. Now in its third season, the tournament gives players and teams an opportunity to chase another championship, engages fans in a new way and drives additional interest in the early portion of the regular-season schedule. All Emirates NBA Cup games will count toward the regular-season standings except the Championship. The Emirates NBA Cup has two stages: Group Play and the Knockout Rounds.

STAGE 1: GROUP PLAY

All 30 teams have been randomly drawn into groups of five within their conference based on win-loss records from the 2024-25 regular season.

Each team will play four designated Group Play games – one game against each opponent in its group, with two games at home and two games on the road.

Group Play games will take place on Oct. 31 and Nov. 7, 14, 21, 25, 26 and 28. On these “Cup Nights,” the only NBA games scheduled will be Group Play games.

STAGE 2: KNOCKOUT ROUNDS

Eight teams (four per conference) will advance from Group Play into the the Knockout Rounds: the six group winners and two “wild cards.” The wild cards will be the team from each conference with the best record in Group Play games that finished second in its group.

The Knockout Rounds will consist of single-elimination games in the Quarterfinals, Semifinals and Championship. The Quarterfinals will be played in NBA team markets. The Semifinals and Championship will be played at a neutral site, T-Mobile Arena in Las Vegas.

EMIRATES NBA CUP 2025

GROUP PLAY DRAW

To determine each team's opponents in the Group Play games, the 15 teams in each conference were divided into three groups of five teams via a random drawing. The groups are below:

WESTERN CONFERENCE GROUPS

WEST GROUP A

Oklahoma City
Minnesota
Sacramento
Phoenix
Utah

WEST GROUP B

L.A. Lakers
LA Clippers
Memphis
Dallas
New Orleans

WEST GROUP C

Houston
Denver
Golden State
Portland
San Antonio

EASTERN CONFERENCE GROUPS

EAST GROUP A

Cleveland
Indiana
Atlanta
Toronto
Washington

EAST GROUP B

Boston
Detroit
Orlando
Brooklyn
Philadelphia

EAST GROUP C

New York
Milwaukee
Chicago
Miami
Charlotte

Before the drawing, each team was placed into a "pot" based on its record from the prior regular season (2024-25). In each conference, one team from each pot was randomly selected into each of the three groups in that conference. The pots were as follows:

POT 1

The teams with the three best prior-season records in a conference.

POT 2

The teams with the fourth- through sixth-best prior-season records.

POT 3

The teams with the seventh- through ninth-best prior-season records.

POT 4

The teams with the 10th- through 12th-best prior-season records.

POT 5

The teams with the 13th- through 15th-best prior-season records.

PRIZE POOL

The Emirates NBA Cup prize pool will be allocated as follows:

- Each player on the team that wins in the Championship: $530,933
- Each player on the team that loses in the Championship: $212,373
- Each player on a team that loses in the Semifinals: $106,187
- Each player on a team that loses in the Quarterfinals: $53,093

Two-Way Players will receive 50% of the amounts indicated above.

The championship-winning team will also receive the NBA Cup championship trophy.

LEAGUE HONORS

At the conclusion of the Emirates NBA Cup, a media panel will select the Most Valuable Player of the competition and the All-Tournament Team.

Selection will be based on player performance in both Group Play and the Knockout Rounds.

The previous two MVPs were the Los Angeles Lakers' LeBron James and the Milwaukee Bucks' Giannis Antetokounmpo (2024).

EMIRATES NBA CUP 2025

TIEBREAKER PROCEDURES

If two or more teams have the same record at the end of Group Play in the Emirates NBA Cup tiebreakers would be necessary to determine (1) the group winner, (2) the seeding among group winners in each conference, (3) the wild-card winner in each conference and (4) the rankings for the fifth-to-15th teams in each conference (for purposes of scheduling two additional regular-season games, as described below).

The tiebreakers will be as follows (in sequential order):

1. Head-to-head record in Group Play games (if all teams are in the same group)
2. Point differential in Group Play games
3. Total points scored in Group Play games
4. Record from the 2023-24 NBA regular season
5. Random drawing (in the unlikely scenario that two or more teams are still tied after the previous tiebreakers)

A tie within a group will be broken first for purposes of the wild card. For instance, if three teams tied at 3-1 in Group Play and two of them are in the same group, the tie would be broken between the teams in the same group first based on head-to-head then across groups using point differential.

In July, the NBA Board of Governors voted to remove overtime scoring from the point differential and total points tiebreakers in the Emirates NBA Cup. A team's point differential will now be "0" in Group Play games that go to overtime, and a team's total points scored will exclude points scored in overtime.

REGULAR-SEASON GAMES TO BE DETERMINED

The 67 games across both stages of the Emirates NBA Cup will count toward the regular-season standings except the Championship. Each team will continue to play 82 regular-season games in the 2025-26 season, including those games that are part of Group Play and the Knockout Rounds.

The 22 teams that do not qualify for the Knockout Rounds will play two regular-season games on off nights during the Knockout Rounds (Dec. 11 or 12 and Dec. 14 or 15).

A formulaic approach will determine the matchups for these games using the Group Play standings in each conference (fifth-15th). Two of the 22 games will be scheduled cross-conference since there will be an odd number of teams in each conference that do not advance to the Knockout Rounds. These cross-conference games will be scheduled between bottom-finishing teams in the Group Play stage subject to travel constraints, and no team will play more than one of its two games cross-conference. The other 20 games will be scheduled within conference featuring teams that are otherwise scheduled to play each other three times over the course of the season wherever possible.

The losing teams in the Quarterfinals in each conference will play each other in a regular-season game on Dec. 11, 12, 14 or 15.

ABC/ESPN/ESPN App will present all five games on Christmas Day (Thursday, Dec. 25). The NBA will have five Christmas games for the 18th consecutive year.

MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. DAY

The NBA's schedule on Martin Luther King Jr. Day (Monday, Jan. 19) will feature four games on NBC Sports, beginning with a Peacock exclusive.

NBA RIVALS WEEK

Classic and budding rivalries between teams and players will take center stage for the fourth NBA Rivals Week, taking place from Tuesday, Jan. 20 through Saturday, Jan. 24. Rivalries will be the focus of 11 national games during those five days. Rivals Week will include doubleheaders on NBC, ESPN and Prime Video (two), and a tripleheader on ABC.

FINAL WEEK OF REGULAR SEASON

All 30 NBA teams will play on the third-to-last day (Friday, April 10) and the final day (Sunday, April 12) of the regular season, and no games have been scheduled for the second-to-last day (Saturday, April 11). On April 12, in an effort to maximize competitive fairness, the seven games between Eastern Conference teams will begin at 6 p.m. ET, and the seven games between Western Conference teams and the one cross-conference game will start at 8:30 p.m. ET.

NBA GLOBAL GAMES

The 2025-26 season will feature one regular-season game each in Mexico, Berlin and London. These matchups will follow two preseason games each in Abu Dhabi (New York Knicks vs. Philadelphia 76ers on Oct. 2 and 4) and Macao (Brooklyn Nets vs. Phoenix Suns on Oct. 10 and 12). In addition, the NBA has already announced that it will play regular-season games in Manchester, England, and Paris in 2027 and in Berlin and Paris in 2028.

Below is a look at the Global Games schedule for the 2025-26 regular season.

MEXICO

The Dallas Mavericks and Detroit Pistons will play a regular-season game hosted by Zignia Live on Saturday, Nov. 1, 2025, at the Arena CDMX in Mexico City. The matchup will mark the league's 34th game in Mexico since 1992, more than any country outside the U.S. and Canada.

The NBA Mexico City Game 2025 presented by Michelob Ultra will coincide with traditional "Día de los Muertos" (Day of the Dead) celebrations locally. The "Día de los Muertos" theme will be showcased as part of a variety of in-arena activations during the game and fan engagement initiatives.

This will be the eighth game for Dallas and the third for Detroit in Mexico. NBA teams first played a game against each other in Mexico in October 1992, when the Mavericks and the Houston Rockets met in a preseason game.

BERLIN

The Memphis Grizzlies will meet the Orlando Magic in a regular-season game on Thursday, Jan. 15, 2026, at Uber Arena in Berlin.

The NBA Berlin Game 2026 presented by Tissot will mark the 14th game featuring an NBA team in Germany since 1984 and the league's first regular-season game in the country.

Memphis and Orlando will each play in Berlin for the first time. The Magic's roster has three players from Germany in Tristan da Silva and brothers Franz and Moritz Wagner.

LONDON

Three days after facing each other in Berlin, the Memphis Grizzlies and Orlando Magic will play a regular-season game on Sunday, Jan. 18, 2026, at The O2 in London.

The NBA London Game 2026 presented by Tissot will be the 19th game featuring an NBA team in the UK since 1993 and the league's 10th regular-season game in London.

The Grizzlies will play in London for the first time. The Magic will play in London for the third time (1993 and 2016).

RECENT NBA CHAMPIONS AND CONTENDERS

Various teams and playoff seeds have contended for and won NBA championships in recent seasons.

NBA CHAMPIONS: The NBA has crowned a different champion in each of the last seven seasons – the longest such streak in league history.

LAST SEVEN NBA CHAMPIONS
SEASON	NBA CHAMPION
2018-19	Toronto Raptors

WEST CHAMPIONS: The Western Conference has had a different representative in the NBA Finals in each of the last six seasons – the first time that has happened in either conference since 1972-73 – 1977-78.

LAST SIX WEST CHAMPIONS

2023-24	Dallas Mavericks
2024-25	Oklahoma City Thunder

FIRST-TIME FINALS: The Oklahoma City Thunder vs. Indiana Pacers series last season marked the sixth first-time NBA Finals matchup in the last seven seasons.

O'BRIEN BREAKTHROUGH: In the last 10 seasons, the Cleveland Cavaliers (2015-16), Toronto Raptors (2018-19) and Denver Nuggets (2022-23) lifted the Larry O'Brien Trophy for the first time, and the Oklahoma City Thunder (2024-25) won its first NBA championship in OKC. In addition, the Milwaukee Bucks (2020-21) broke a 50-year title drought with their second NBA championship.

DEFENDING CHAMPIONS: No defending NBA champion has advanced past the Conference Semifinals since the 2018-19 season (Golden State Warriors).

CONFERENCE FINALS PARTICIPANTS: 60% of NBA teams (18 of 30) have made at least one Conference Finals appearance in the last eight seasons.

LOW SEED ➡ FINALS: The 2022-23 Miami Heat made the NBA Finals as an eighth seed and the 2023-24 Dallas Mavericks did so as a fifth seed – the second Finals appearance for each of those seed numbers under the current playoff format (since 1983-84). Last season, the Indiana Pacers became the fourth No. 4 seed to reach the Finals in that span.

2024-25 REVIEW: THUNDER WINS FIRST NBA CHAMPIONSHIP IN OKLAHOMA CITY

In 2024-25, the Oklahoma City Thunder finished a team-record and league-leading 68-14 (.829) in the regular season and won the franchise's first NBA championship in OKC.

Among the highlights from the Thunder's historic season:

- Set the NBA record for regular-season point differential, outscoring opponents by 12.9 points per game. The previous record was 12.3 points by the 1971-72 Los Angeles Lakers.
- Became the second-youngest NBA champion in the last 70 years (average age of 25.68 weighted by playing time), behind the 1976-77 Portland Trail Blazers (24.95).
- Finished 16 games ahead of any other Western Conference team in the regular-season standings, the biggest gap between the teams with the best and second-best records in a conference since 1975-76.
- Tied the 1972-73 Boston Celtics for the sixth-best regular-season winning percentage in NBA history.

- Became the fifth team in NBA history – and the first since the 1996-97 Chicago Bulls – to have at least 68 regular-season victories and win the NBA championship in the same season.
- Became the third team to finish with 84+ victories across the regular season and playoffs (84-21) and win the NBA championship in the same season, joining the 1995-96 Chicago Bulls (87-13) and the 1996-97 Bulls (84-17).
- Led the NBA in defensive rating (106.6), held opponents to the lowest field goal percentage (43.6) and forced the most turnovers (17.0) in the regular season.
- Went undefeated when holding opponents under 100 points (19-0).
- Finished 29-1 against the Eastern Conference in the regular season, the best record against a conference since 1970-71 (the first season that divisions were split into conferences).
- Set the NBA record for most regular-season victories by 10 or more points (54).
- Won 15 consecutive regular-season games from Dec. 3 – Jan. 5, the longest streak in franchise history.
- Advanced to the Championship of the Emirates NBA Cup 2024.

2024-25 REVIEW: KNACK FOR THE COMEBACK PROPELS PACERS

The Indiana Pacers had an extraordinary run to the 2025 NBA Finals as their cohesive team play and historic knack for the comeback carried them within one victory of their first NBA championship.

Indiana showed its resilience throughout the 2024-25 season. The Pacers started the regular season 10-15, but they rebounded to go 40-17 the rest of the way. The 2024-25 Pacers (50-32) and the 1977-78 Seattle SuperSonics (47-35) are the only teams in NBA history to make the NBA Finals after beginning an 82-game regular season with a record of 10-15 or worse through 25 games.

As the No. 4 seed in the Eastern Conference, the Pacers had at least one big comeback victory in each playoff round – the First Round against the fifth-seeded Milwaukee Bucks, the Conference Semifinals against the top-seeded Cleveland Cavaliers, the Conference Finals against the third-seeded New York Knicks and the NBA Finals against the top seed in the Western Conference, the Oklahoma City Thunder.

Indiana had five playoff victories in which it came back from a deficit of 15 or more points, the most by a team in a single postseason in the play-by-play era (since 1998). Delivering late with the outcome in doubt, the Pacers went 9-2 in “clutch” playoff games.

Guard Tyrese Haliburton delivered in those clutch moments. He made five go-ahead or game-tying field goals in the final 30 seconds of the fourth quarter or overtime during the playoffs, the most such shots by a player in a single postseason since 1998.

The Pacers got key contributions across the roster as part of their second straight deep playoff run (they made the Eastern Conference Finals in 2023-24). In 2025, Indiana became the first team in NBA history to have eight players score at least 200 points in a single postseason.

2024-25 REVIEW: CLEVELAND ROCKS BEHIND HISTORIC START

The Cleveland Cavaliers went an Eastern Conference-best 64-18 in 2024-25 thanks in part to a spotless record for nearly the entire first month of the regular season.

Cleveland won its first 15 games to match the second-best start to a season in NBA history. The Cavaliers' first defeat did not come until Nov. 19, when they lost to the then defending NBA champion Boston Celtics 120-117 in a Group Play game for the Emirates NBA Cup.

The 15-0 start was not even the Cavaliers' longest winning streak of the season. Cleveland ripped off a franchise-record 16 consecutive victories from Feb. 5 – March 14. It was the Cavaliers' third separate winning streak of 12 or more games for the season. The 2006-07 Dallas Mavericks are the only other team to have three separate winning streaks of 12 or more games in a season.

Under a new head coach, Kenny Atkinson, Cleveland finished two victories shy of matching the 2008-09 Cavaliers (66-16) for the winningest regular season in team history. The Cavaliers led the NBA in both points per game (121.9) and offensive rating (121.0) and were second in both field goal percentage (49.1) and three-point field goal percentage (38.3).

Atkinson earned a head coaching spot in the NBA All-Star Game and was joined there by three Cavaliers players, guards Darius Garland and Donovan Mitchell and forward-center Evan Mobley. It marked the second time in team history – and the first time since 1989 – that the Cavaliers sent three players and their head coach to the same All-Star Game.

Cleveland also featured prominently in end-of-season awards. Atkinson was selected as the NBA Coach of the Year. The Kia All-NBA Team included Mitchell on the First Team and Mobley on the Second Team. In addition, Mobley won the Kia NBA Defensive Player of the Year Award.

2024-25 REVIEW: THE RISE OF THE ROCKETS

2020-21	17-55

2022-23	22-60

The Houston Rockets surged to second place in the Western Conference last season and secured their first playoff berth in five years.

The Rockets finished 52-30 last season after going 41-41 in 2023-24 and winning a league-low total of 59 games over a span of three seasons from 2020-21 through 2022-23.

With the emergence of young players, an elite defense, a balanced offense and a significant rebounding advantage, Houston won 50 or more games for the first time since the 2018-19 season.

Center Alperen Sengun, now 23, was named a first-time NBA All-Star in his fourth season. Guard-forward Amen Thompson, 22, was selected to the 2024-25 Kia NBA All-Defensive First Team in his second season. He became the fifth-youngest player to make an All-Defensive First Team.

Thompson helped lead Houston to a No. 5 ranking in defensive rating. He also averaged 14.1 points as one of the team's many scoring options. The 2024-25 Rockets are the only team in NBA history to have seven players average 12.0 or more points in a season (minimum 50 games played for each player).

On the glass, the Rockets led the NBA in rebounding differential (+6.3 per game) and rebounding percentage (53.3). They outrebounded their opponent a league-high 60 times and went 45-15 in those games. Houston also grabbed an NBA-leading 1,200 offensive rebounds (14.6 per game) – 105 more than the No. 2 team, the Portland Trail Blazers (1,095 for 13.4 per game).

With Houston's climb from 11th place in the Western Conference in 2023-24 to second place in 2024-25, head coach Ime Udoka was a finalist for the NBA Coach of the Year Award last season.

2024-25 REVIEW: HISTORIC TURNAROUND FUELS PISTONS

The Detroit Pistons made a historic turnaround last season that led to their first playoff appearance in six years.

Detroit went 44-38 in 2024-25 after finishing 14-68 in 2023-24 – a 30-win increase. The Pistons posted the sixth-biggest improvement in winning percentage from one season to the next. They also became the first team in NBA history to triple its win total from one 82-game season to the next.

Under a new head coach, 2024-25 NBA Coach of the Year runner-up J.B. Bickerstaff, Detroit tied the 2015-16 team for its most victories in a season since going 59-23 in 2007-08. In Game 2 of a First Round series against the New York Knicks, the Pistons notched their first playoff victory since 2008 and snapped an NBA-record 15-game playoff losing streak.

Guard Cade Cunningham led the way for Detroit. In two career firsts, the No. 1 pick in the 2021 NBA Draft was named an NBA All-Star and Kia All-NBA Team selection (Third Team). He joined Denver Nuggets center Nikola Jokić as the only players to average at least 25.0 points, 6.0 rebounds and 9.0 assists last season – the sixth and seventh players to do it in any season.

2024-25 KIA NBA MVP FINALIST NIKOLA JOKIĆ

NIKOLA JOKIĆ'S RANKINGS IN 2024-25 SEASON

CATEGORY	RANK
PPG (29.6)	3 RD
RPG (12.7)	3 RD
APG (10.2)	2 ND
SPG (1.81)	2 ND
MPG (36.7)	4 TH

Three-time Kia NBA MVP Nikola Jokić of the Denver Nuggets had another historic season in 2024-25.

The Serbian center averaged 29.6 points, 12.7 rebounds and 10.2 assists per game to become the third player to average a triple-double in a season, joining Oscar Robertson (1961-62) and Russell Westbrook (four times).

Jokić ranked third in the NBA in both points per game and rebounds per game and second in assists per game. He became the first player to rank in the top three in all three categories in a season since 1969-70 (when league leaders were first determined by per-game averages). Jokić also finished second in the league in steals per game (1.81).

On offense, Jokić shot 57.6% from the field (ninth in the NBA) and a career-high 41.7% from three-point range (18th in the NBA). He became the first player ever to shoot 55+% from the field and 40+% from three-point range in a season (minimum 300 three-point attempts).

With an NBA-leading and career-high 34 triple-doubles in 2024-25, Jokić tied Westbrook (2018-19) for the fourth most in a season. Jokić raised his career triple-double total to 164, third place all time behind No. 1 Westbrook (203) and No. 2 Robertson (181). As the 2025-26 season tips off, Jokić needs 18 triple-doubles to pass Robertson for second place.

Jokić was second in the Kia NBA MVP Award voting – his fifth consecutive top two finish. He won the award in the 2020-21, 2021-22 and 2023-24 seasons and had his other second-place finish in 2022-23.

2024-25 KIA NBA MVP FINALIST GIANNIS ANTETOKOUNMPO

Two-time Kia NBA MVP Giannis Antetokounmpo of the Milwaukee Bucks continues to raise the bar with his consistently dominant performance.

Last season, Antetokounmpo averaged 30.4 points (second in the NBA), 11.9 rebounds (sixth) and 6.5 assists (13th). It was his third consecutive season of averaging at least 30.0 points, 10.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists. No other player has more than two such seasons at any point in his career; Wilt Chamberlain and Oscar Robertson both did it twice in the 1960s.

In 2024-25, Antetokounmpo also averaged at least 30.0 points and shot 60% or higher from the field for the second straight season. Those are the only two such instances in NBA history.

Antetokounmpo reached another milestone last season when he became the 52nd player in NBA history to score 20,000 career points. He became the sixth-youngest player to reach the mark (30 years, 89 days), behind No. 1 LeBron James (28 years, 17 days), No. 2 Kevin Durant (29 years, 103 days), No. 3 Kobe Bryant (29 years, 122 days), No. 4 Wilt Chamberlain (29 years, 134 days) and No. 5 Michael Jordan (29 years, 326 days).

Antetokounmpo begins the 2025-26 season ranked 48th on the league's all-time scoring list (20,538). He needs just over 1,600 points to move up 10 spots, to No. 38, currently held by Clyde Drexler (22,195). Antetokounmpo has scored 1,700 or more points in each of the last nine seasons.

In each of those last nine seasons, Antetokounmpo has been an NBA All-Star and received votes for the Kia NBA MVP Award. He has a current seven-year streak of finishing in the top four of MVP voting, including back-to-back MVP-winning seasons in 2018-19 and 2019-20. Last season, he was third in the balloting.

Antetokounmpo is entering his 13th season with the Bucks, who selected him with the 15th overall pick in the 2013 NBA Draft. He is the career franchise leader in games, minutes, points, rebounds, assists and blocks, among other categories.

MILESTONE WATCH: KEVIN DURANT

Two-time NBA Finals MVP Kevin Durant of the Houston Rockets begins a new career chapter with a chance to crack the top five on the NBA's all-time scoring list this season.

Acquired by the Rockets from the Phoenix Suns in a July trade, the 15-time NBA All-Star ranks eighth in career points with 30,571. He needs 849 points to pass No. 7 Wilt Chamberlain (31,419), 990 to pass No. 6 Dirk Nowitzki (31,560) and 1,722 to pass No. 5 Michael Jordan (32,292).

Last season, Durant scored 1,647 points in 62 games with the Suns – an average of 26.6 points, sixth highest in the NBA. Two seasons ago, he had 2,032 points in 75 games for Phoenix – an average of 27.1 points, fifth highest in the NBA.

Durant has averaged 25+ points and shot 50+% from the field in each of his last 12 seasons (excluding 2019-20 when he did not play), the longest such streak in NBA history. Last season, he ranked 17th in the NBA in field goal percentage (52.7) and 11th in three-point field goal percentage (43.0).

In addition to the scoring list, here are some other potential milestones for Durant during the 2025-26 season:

FIELD GOALS MADE: Durant ranks 12th in career field goals made (10,542) – 458 shy of 11,000, a mark accomplished by eight players. If Durant reaches 11,000, he would pass No. 11 Alex English (10,659), No. 10 Hakeem Olajuwon (10,749) and No. 9 Elvin Hayes (10,976). Durant also needs 628 field goals made to pass No. 8 Nowitzki (11,169). Durant made 592 field goals in 2024-25 and 751 in 2023-24.

Last season, Harden scored 1,802 points in 79 games (22.8 ppg). He has finished with 1,000 or more points in each of the last 14 seasons.

Harden ranks 13th in career assists (8,316). He needs 209 assists to pass No. 12 Andre Miller (8,524), 651 to pass No. 11 Gary Payton (8,966) and 746 to pass No. 10 Isiah Thomas (9,061).

In 2024-25, Harden recorded 687 assists for an average of 8.7 per game. It was his second-highest total in a season, behind 907 in 2016-17 (when he won the first of his two assists titles). If he finishes this season with 59 more assists than last season, Harden would pass Thomas for 10th place all time.

Los Angeles Lakers forward LeBron James is the only player to rank in the top 10 in both career points and assists. James is the NBA's all-time scoring leader and has the fourth-most assists.

Harden is also approaching milestones for free throws made, a category in which he ranks fifth in NBA history (8,164). MILESTONE WATCH: STEPHEN CURRY

Two-time Kia NBA MVP and all-time three-pointers made leader Stephen Curry of the Golden State Warriors enters his 17th NBA season as he continues one of the longest tenures with a team in league history.

Curry is set to become the 10th player ever to play 17 or more seasons with one team. Of those other nine players, six played their entire NBA career with only one team: Dirk Nowitzki (21 seasons with Dallas Mavericks), Kobe Bryant (20 seasons with Los Angeles Lakers), Udonis Haslem (20 seasons with Miami Heat), Tim Duncan (19 seasons with San Antonio Spurs), John Stockton (19 seasons with Utah Jazz) and Reggie Miller (18 seasons with Indiana Pacers).

This will be the 14th season as Warriors teammates for Curry and Draymond Green, who has also played his entire career with Golden State. Curry and Green have helped lead the Warriors to four NBA championships and six NBA Finals appearances. The only other players to play every game of their NBA career with the Warriors' franchise are Paul Arizin and Al Attles.

In 2025-26, Curry is poised to continue his rise on the NBA's all-time scoring list. He begins the season ranked 24th in career points (25,386) – 94 points ahead of No. 25 DeMar DeRozan of the Sacramento Kings (25,292). Curry needs 1,614 points to reach 27,000, a mark achieved by 13 players (No. 13 Elvin Hayes has 27,313 career points). Last season, Curry scored 1,718 points.

Curry also has a chance to reach 7,000 career assists this season, which 21 players have accomplished. Ranked 29th all time with 6,540 assists, he needs 460 for 7,000. In 2024-25, Curry finished with 421 assists.

Curry is coming off another vintage season. In 2024-25, he ranked third in the NBA in three-pointers made with 311. It was his sixth season with 300 or more threes made; the rest of the NBA has four such seasons combined.

Also last season, Curry led the NBA in free throw percentage (93.3) for the fifth time. He is now tied with Miller for the third-most seasons as the league leader in free throw percentage, behind Bill Sharman (seven) and Rick Barry (six).

In 2021, Paul was named to the NBA 75th Anniversary Team. He has been selected to the Kia All-NBA Team 11 times and the Kia NBA All-Defensive Team nine times.

Los Angeles will follow the San Francisco Bay Area in 2025 as NBA All-Star host. Phoenix will host in 2027.

FEBRUARY 13-15

ALL-STAR HISTORY IN LOS ANGELES

Some of the best players in league history have produced extraordinary performances in the previous six times that Los Angeles has hosted NBA All-Star.

Each NBA All-Star Game MVP in Los Angeles was named to the NBA 75th Anniversary Team and selected to at least 11 All-Star Games: LeBron James (MVP in 2018), Kobe Bryant (2011), Shaquille O'Neal (2004), Julius Erving (1983), Jerry West (1972) and Bill Russell (1963).

The most recent NBA All-Star Game in Los Angeles (2018) featured a dramatic finish as Team LeBron rallied from a 13-point deficit with seven minutes to play to defeat Team Stephen 148-145 in the first All-Star Game without a matchup between the Eastern Conference and Western Conference. As the captain of Team LeBron, James made a game-tying three-pointer with 1:30 remaining and a go-ahead layup with 34.5 seconds left in the game.

NBA All-Star 2026 will mark the 15th anniversary of the 2011 mid-season celebration in Los Angeles, where the Clippers' Blake Griffin played on the winning teams in the All-Star Game and Rising Stars and was crowned Slam Dunk champion as a rookie. That year, the Los Angeles Lakers' Bryant earned his record-tying fourth NBA All-Star Game MVP Award after scoring 37 points to lift the Western Conference past the Eastern Conference 148-143.

The 1972 NBA All-Star Game at Kia Forum is remembered for the last-second, game-winning shot by the Lakers' West, whose jump shot from the top of the key gave the Western Conference a 112-110 victory over the Eastern Conference.

SOFI NBA PLAY-IN TOURNAMENT

The SoFi NBA Play-In Tournament, which determines the teams that fill the seventh and eighth playoff seeds in each conference, will take place April 14-17, 2026, between the last day of the regular season on April 12 and the start of the NBA Playoffs on April 18. Prime Video will exclusively stream all six games of the SoFi NBA Play-In Tournament.

The SoFi NBA Play-In Tournament will comprise the teams with the seventh-highest through the tenth-highest winning percentages in each conference – four teams in each conference for a total of eight teams across the NBA.

The teams with the seventh-highest and eighth-highest winning percentages in each conference will each have two opportunities to win one game to earn a playoff spot. The teams with the ninth-highest and tenth-highest winning percentages in each conference will each have to win two consecutive games to earn a playoff spot.

Each conference will have three Play-In Tournament games for a total of six games across the NBA:

- The team with the seventh-highest winning percentage in each conference will host the team with the eighth-highest winning percentage in its conference (“Seven-Eight Game”). The winning team in each conference will be the seventh seed in the NBA Playoffs for its conference.
- The team with the ninth-highest winning percentage in each conference will host the team with the tenth-highest winning percentage in its conference (“Nine-Ten Game”). The winning team in each conference will advance and the losing team will be eliminated.
- The losing team of the Seven-Eight Game in each conference will host the winning team of the Nine-Ten Game in each conference. The winning team of this game will be the eighth seed in the NBA Playoffs for its conference.

In July 2022, the NBA Board of Governors approved the adoption of the SoFi NBA Play-In Tournament on a full-time basis using the same format that was in place for the 2020-21 and 2021-22 seasons. The current version of the SoFi NBA Play-In Tournament was initially implemented on a one-year basis for the 2020-21 season and extended for the 2021-22 season.

Three teams have participated in the SoFi NBA Play-In Tournament and gone on to win at least one playoff series in the same season: the 2022-23 Miami Heat (NBA Finals as No. 8 playoff seed), the 2022-23 Los Angeles Lakers (Western Conference Finals as No. 7 seed) and the 2024-25 Golden State Warriors (Western Conference Semifinals as No. 7 seed).

Tyler Herro (right) and Miami have advanced to the NBA Playoffs via the NBA Play-In Tournament in each of the last three seasons.
