WARRANTY AND COMPLAINTS

The customer bears the risk for equipment from the time the item is delivered.

Unless otherwise agreed, Easymeeting guarantees that the delivered equipment is free of faults and defects for a warranty period of 12 months.

Easymeeting's warranty liability does not cover conditions such as accident, fire, lightning, overvoltage, static electricity, water damage, environmental/climate conditions that fall outside the specifications, or damage caused in connection with building work.

We are also not responsible if the delivery is subject to abnormal or unauthorized use.

We are also not responsible if the Customer makes changes, modifications, connection with other equipment, maintenance etc. that are not approved by Easymeeting.

The customer is obliged to examine the item immediately upon receipt, regardless of how the item is wrapped. Complaints must be made in writing and be received by Easymeeting within 3 weeks of the Customer's receipt of the goods.

If the Customer discovers deficiencies, the Customer must, without undue delay, and with an absolute complaint deadline of 12 months, complain in writing to Easymeeting.

If there is a defect upon delivery, Easymeeting covers the costs associated with the warranty, with the exception of shipping and insurance associated with the transport of the equipment from the Customer to the address Easymeeting specifies for rectification/repair.

We are entitled, at our own discretion, to either carry out a repair/correction, re-delivery or give a proportionate price reduction.

In the case of repairs/improvements, no price discount will be given.

Correction under warranty will take place during normal working hours. If the customer wants correction outside normal working hours, this can be agreed with Easymeeting. Then the ordinary hourly rate will apply for this type of work.

When returning during the warranty period, the goods must be returned in the condition of the goods on delivery, in the original packaging without damage or the like.

If a delivery is defective or damaged, the Customer is also entitled to compensation for his loss.
