

Discover the Peppol integration

With the Peppol integration, your selected invoices are automatically downloaded to the Peppol network. No manual action required.

What is Peppol?

Peppol (Pan-European Public Procurement Online) is a network designed to enable the exchange of electronic documents between businesses and public administrations across Europe and beyond. Starting in 2026, it will be mandatory in Belgium to send all B2B invoices via the Peppol network. A paper or PDF document will no longer suffice.

Invoices must be machine-readable, and the Peppol network uses a standardized format (UBL) for electronic invoices and other business documents, ensuring efficient and secure information exchange.

How does Zero Friction help?

Manual

Zero Friction first allows you to export invoices in UBL format. This can be easily done via the "Export" button. You can then gather the converted invoices and send them via a Peppol access point.

Automatic

Zero Friction also offers a fully automated integration to upload invoices via e-invoicing on the Peppol network.

With this integration, you won't waste time manually converting invoices to UBL and sending them through a Peppol access provider.

You can select the desired invoices and send them with a single click via the Peppol network. Alternatively, you can pre-select which clients should receive their invoices via electronic invoicing. Then, Zero Friction will automatically download the invoices to the Peppol network.

The Peppol integration in practice

Activate the Peppol integration: through the integration page in Zero Friction, you can link to your Peppol access point. Here, you enter your company information to get started.

Opt for electronic invoicing to save time by pre-selecting the clients who will receive their invoices electronically. The invoices will then be automatically sent via the Peppol network, but you can also manually indicate which invoices should be sent via electronic invoicing.

Invoices are automatically generated: Zero Friction automatically generates invoices as usual. If the invoice type for the client is set for electronic invoicing, the invoice will then be automatically converted to a UBL file and sent to the Peppol network. You can also select generated invoices to send.

Receipt and processing: Zero Friction indicates whether the invoice has been sent and received via Peppol. This way, you are always informed.
