A photograph of a modern lodge with a wooden deck and large glass doors. The lodge has a white exterior and a wooden slat ceiling. The deck is made of dark wood. The glass doors are open, revealing a bedroom with a bed and a chair. The sky is blue with some clouds.

We began as luxury holiday park operators, driven by a desire to create unforgettable guest experiences. But as we looked to expand, we couldn't find lodges that met the level of quality and design we envisioned for our future sites.

So, we took matters into our own hands - building homes and lodges the way we believed they should be built: with care, creativity, and a commitment to excellence.

The result is YourRetreats.

The Family Farm

THE BEGINNINGS OF INNOVATION

The story began when Sam Greaves built a holiday lodge on his family farm in Rossendale. The result was a beautifully designed space that guests loved - earning outstanding reviews and high occupancy rates, and paving the way for something bigger.

2

The Formation of YourRetreats

A SERENDIPITOUS PARTNERSHIP

Sam met fellow co-founder Andrew Hardman, and together they launched YourRetreats. Their combined experience shaped a clear focus: improving design, build quality and long-term performance across the park sector.

3

Building Beyond the Ordinary

THE QUEST FOR PERFECTION

Unsatisfied with what existing manufacturers offered, the growing YourRetreats team began developing their own designs, focusing on better-built homes and lodges, and a more considered customer experience.

Our story has just begun...

A Pivotal Shift

4

FROM INITIAL SUCCESS TO OUTSIDE INTEREST

The tide turned. With growing interest from fellow park owners to order YourRetreats lodges, the team chose to move into manufacturing. Their mission? To tackle industry challenges head-on and redefine the home and lodge buying experience for customers across the sector.

Explosive Growth

5

SECURING THE FUTURE

YourRetreats entered a new phase of growth by partnering with Solid Bond, a trusted investment firm. The partnership supports long-term development and strengthens our ability to design, manufacture and deliver high-quality homes and lodges for years to come.

6

EXPANSION AND EVOLUTION

A period of growth and change followed. We moved into a new 60,000-square-foot facility in Accrington, Lancashire, marking a significant step in scaling our operations. The move reflects a continued investment in our people, processes and long-term ambitions for YourRetreats.
