ATTACHMENTS : -
EFFECTIVE DATE : The circular will be effective on Friday, 13 November 2026.

1. Purpose

   This circular is issued to inform all Exchange Members of the introduction of the new Soybean Oil Contract on ACM Exchange and the applicable new margin requirement. The margin requirement is established to determine the applicable margin level for the Soybean Oil Contract and to support the Exchange's risk management framework.

2. Background

   The Exchange establishes contract specifications and risk management requirements to ensure that they are aligned with market conditions and the operational needs of the exchange. In connection with the introduction of the new Soybean Oil Contract, the Exchange has determined to establish a new margin requirement applicable to the Contract.

3. Margin requirement

   The Exchange hereby establishes a new margin requirement for the Soybean Oil Contract as follows:

Commodity	Margin
Soybean Oil	USD1,000

   The above margin requirement shall apply to all relevant positions in the Soybean Oil Contract from the Effective Date.

4. Implementation

   All Exchange Members shall ensure that the applicable margin requirement is met for all relevant positions in the Soybean Oil Contract from the Effective Date, in accordance with the applicable Exchange Rules and risk management directives.
