

Caribbean Poultry Association Mourns the Loss of Mr. Robin Phillips

It is with profound sadness that the Caribbean Poultry Association (CPA) announces the passing of our esteemed Foundation Member, Director, Past-President and Chairman of Arawak and Company Limited, Mr. Robin Phillips, who departed this life on Saturday September 6, 2025.

Robin was a pillar of the CPA community, whose vision, integrity, and unwavering commitment helped shape the foundation and trajectory of our Association. As a director, he brought not only strategic insight but also a deep sense of purpose to our shared mission of advancing poultry production across the region. He has served tirelessly for decades as the President of the Poultry Association of Trinidad and Tobago, as its strongest advocate and voice of all of its stakeholders.

Beyond Robin's professional contributions, he was a mentor, a colleague, and a friend to all of us in the CPA family. His legacy will live on in the systems he helped build, the people he inspired, and the values he championed as a son of the Caribbean.

The CPA is committed to upholding Robin's advocacy for the industry's collective future. In his memory, we will continue to pursue our vision —“One Industry, One Caribbean, One Voice”— inspired by his passion and commitment to the Caribbean poultry community.

We extend our heartfelt condolences to his wife, Sharon, his children, David and Jacqueline, his grandchildren, his loved ones, our colleagues at Arawak and Company Limited and all who were touched by his life and work.

May Robin Rest in Eternal Peace.
