A wide-angle photograph of a luxurious outdoor terrace. In the foreground, two white wicker armchairs with light-colored cushions are arranged on a light-colored gravel patio, facing each other with a small, round wooden table between them. The terrace is bordered by a dense, well-manicured garden featuring a variety of plants, including tall green shrubs, flowering bushes with white and purple blossoms, and large, spiky-leafed plants. In the background, a thick line of trees, including a prominent tall pine tree, separates the garden from a clear blue sky. To the right, a panoramic view of the sea is visible, with a small island and distant mountains on the horizon under a bright, sunny sky with a few wispy clouds.

Ideally located just 15 minutes' walk from Saint-Tropez village center and 5 minutes drive from the beaches, Villa Albane perfectly combines luxury and accessibility.
