

SAVE WOODLAND PARK

Seattle plans to tear down trees in Woodland Park that are historic and critical for wildlife.

Seattle Public Schools hired a consultant who specializes in “challenging, controversial” cases to design athletic fields at Woodland Park.

They created 3 options with zero community input outside the school.

One option removes 40-60 trees, including some eagles call home. Another removes trees from the 1910 Olmsted plan.

With Seattle facing biodiversity & climate crises, we can do better.
