

See what is happening in your curriculum

Capture meaningful moments from the lived curriculum and build a clear picture of what is happening across your school.

Schools are already capturing evidence and reflecting on practice

Blippit Boards brings together in a more structured and visible way, replacing more fragmented approaches such as emails, shared drives, folders and disconnected notes.

Who it's for

School leaders, subject leaders, and anyone responsible for understanding curriculum impact

What this gives your school

A clearer way to see curriculum impact

Capture moments as they happen. Add context. Tag them so they can be organised, found and used.

Over time, this builds a clear, real-time picture of your curriculum in action.

More than monitoring data

Most monitoring tools tell you about children.

Blippit Boards helps you understand your curriculum.

Supporting subject leaders

- ✓ See what is happening in classrooms
- ✓ Understand your curriculum coverage
- ✓ Build confidence in conversations
- ✓ Focus on leadership, not admin

A more joined up way of working

This does not remove the work - it replaces more time-consuming, fragmented approaches with one clear, structured way of capturing and using curriculum moments.

See patterns over time

Explore curriculum moments across subject, groups, or individuals in a clear and structured way.

Alongside curriculum insight, your school also provides access to Reflect.

What happens in your classroom matters

Reflect gives it somewhere to go

Teachers notice things all day.

What worked.

What didn't.

What I'd do differently next time.

Most of it just passes by.

Not because it is not useful, but because there is no time or space to capture it.

Reflect provides that space.

*Private by design.
Trusted by teachers.*

A space that belongs to your teachers

Reflect is a simple, private space designed entirely for teachers

It is not a reporting tool.

It does not feed into dashboards

It is not used to monitor or evaluate.

Completely private

What a teacher writes in Reflect remains private.

There is no visibility for leaders.

No summaries.

No reports.

This is intentional.

Reflection without an audience

In many schools, reflection is connected to an audience.

Reflect is different.

Without an audience, reflection becomes:

- ✓ more honest
- ✓ less filtered
- ✓ easier to process

For the moments that stay with you

Not everything fits into a system.

Some moments do not:

- become evidence
- become conversations
- get written down

But they stay with you.

Reflect gives those moments somewhere to go.

Take a moment, then move forward

Teachers can pause, put those thoughts into words and move forward with greater clarity.

What this says about your school

There is no data returned from Reflect.

What it offers instead is something more meaningful:

a way to support staff wellbeing that is grounded in trust, professionalism and respect.
