Philippine Airlines and Kolet launch myPAL eSIM to keep passengers connected the moment they land

A new passenger service offering 1GB of mobile data valid for 2 days

Paris, France, January 22nd, 2026 – Kolet, the travel eSIM company, today announces a partnership with Philippine Airlines (PAL) to launch myPAL eSIM. The goal is simple: turn mobile connectivity abroad into a real passenger service—easy to activate, available at the right moment, and designed for that “I just landed and I’m already connected” feeling.

With myPAL eSIM, PAL passengers receive 1GB of mobile data valid for two days, helping them get online upon arrival, when it matters most.

Kolet is gaining significant momentum amongst airlines, having signed major partnerships with global airlines such as Air France-KLM, Vietnam Airlines, Corendon Airlines, Singapore Airlines, and now PAL. These collaborations have helped Kolet extend its reach to millions of travelers, enabling them to stay connected seamlessly when they travel abroad.

Connectivity, built into the passenger journey

Mobile connectivity has become a travel essential: accessing travel info, messaging family, ordering a ride, using maps, and handling last-minute changes. Yet for many travelers, arriving without data still creates unnecessary friction—either because roaming is expensive, lack of connection, or local solutions are time-consuming and uncertain.

With myPAL eSIM, Philippine Airlines integrates a simple connectivity option into key passenger touchpoints—from booking to boarding—so travelers can land and immediately use what they need without stress.

A seamless experience, wherever you land

Once installed, Kolet’s eSIM is designed to connect travelers quickly and reliably by leveraging multiple local partner networks, selecting the best available option based on location and conditions. For travelers moving across destinations, one eSIM can also support multi-country trips, making connectivity simpler across borders.

"We're committed to going above and beyond for our passengers by ensuring they stay connected as soon as they reach their destination, making their travel experience with us as smooth and effortless as possible."

— Christoph Gaertner, Philippine Airlines Vice President - Revenue Management, Commercial Planning & Alliances

"A better journey is made of small things done right. Connectivity is one of them. Travelers don't remember the roaming plan they bought, they remember the moment they land and everything works just fine. With Philippine Airlines, we're proud to launch myPAL eSIM to remove friction at one of the most critical moments of the trip: arrival."

— Eduardo Ronzano, CEO, Kolet
