Pay transparency report

The Hive is committed to fair, equitable, and transparent compensation practices, and supporting diversity and inclusion in our workforce.

In compliance with the requirements of British Columbia's Pay Transparency Act, we are continuously monitoring our hiring practices, pay structure and promotion process to ensure gender equity, and taking appropriate steps to address any unjustified pay differences should they arise.

Data constraints

These reports cover the pay periods from January 1, 2025, to December 31, 2025; anyone who earned money at their respective British Columbia Hive companies are included. During the onboarding process, The Hive gathers confidential information regarding our new staff's gender identity. We also requested two separate surveys in 2025 and 2026 to ensure that everyone had an equal opportunity to disclose their gender.

Our data reveals that:
59% identify as Prefer not to say/Unknown
21% identify as Woman/Girl
18% identify as Man/Boy
4% identity as Non-Binary
Total: 395 employees (all BC locations)

Pay quartiles divide employees into four groups based on their pay levels. When the number of employees in a group is small, breaking the results down further by gender may make it possible to identify individual employees. For this reason, some gender categories may not appear in the pay quartile information. This does not mean a gender category was excluded from the calculation; it simply means the results cannot be displayed per category due to privacy requirements.

As we continue to collect and maintain gender information, we expect the quality and completeness of the data to improve, which will allow for more meaningful and accurate analysis in future Pay Transparency Reports.

Explanatory notes

9. "Pay quartile" refers to the percentage of each gender within four equal sized groups based on their hourly pay.

* In accordance with the Pay Transparency Act and reporting rules designed to protect the anonymity and privacy of respondents, one or more gender categories has been excluded due to insufficient numbers to meet disclosure requirements.
