TENKO SKIS

HANDMADE IN NISEKO, INSPIRED BY NATURE

Handcrafted in Niseko from sustainable Hokkaido cedar trees, Tenko Skis are Japan's most eco-friendly, high-performance skis. Using the finest local wood and advanced German steel, each pair is meticulously crafted, ensuring durability with stiffened tails for tough conditions and flexible cedar cores for smooth, agile performance.

The driving force behind Tenko is Kamori-san, a highly respected figure in Japanese ski manufacturing with decades of experience. Kamori-san personally oversees every step of the handmade process in Niseko, ensuring each ski is built to the highest standards for all snow conditions.

At Tenko, we prioritize both form and function. Our skis are designed with the perfect sidecut and width to handle all terrain, keeping you deep "in the powder," not just riding on top of it.

Inspired by the celestial fox of Japanese folklore, Tenko Skis are not just tools—they're an invitation to become part of a tribe, embodying the spirit of skiing with grace, precision, and mastery. After years of refinement, we've perfected the "quiver of one" ski versatile enough for powder but ready for anything the mountain throws your way.
