

About the Courses:

Both courses are designed exclusively to prepare students for the first-round CEO test. Approximately 70% of the test content is Economics and 30% is Financial Literacy.

- CEO Economics Part 1: Saturdays, 7:30–9:30 PM EST, from September 6 to December 20
- Financial Literacy Part 1: Sundays, 7:30–9:30 PM EST, from September 7 to December 21

These courses represent Part 1 of the preparation, focusing on knowledge delivery. Part 2 will begin in January and continue until the CEO test date (to be announced, last year is March 8, 2025). Part 2 will focus on practical questions and review.

Classes are conducted online via Zoom and Google Classroom. All sessions are recorded and available for unlimited replay. The detailed schedule and Zoom information will be posted in Google Classroom. The instructor will assign homework after each lesson.

Recommended Prerequisites:

Students are strongly encouraged to have already completed AP Microeconomics and Macroeconomics, as well as Advanced Functions and Calculus. We also offer these courses upon request.

Fees and Registration

- CEO Economics Part 1: C$1,200
- Financial Literacy Part 1: C$1,050

Please note: No refunds will be provided. To register, please send an email transfer to finance@lorvale.com and include the student's full name and email address for Google Classroom access. Students will be invited to the Google Classroom once payment is received.

Important Notes:

- Anyone may participate in the CEO exam; these courses are intended to help students prepare but are not prerequisites for the competition.
- Lorvale Academy is the exclusive educational partner of the CEO.
- Lorvale Academy does NOT have prior knowledge of CEO test questions.
- For CEO contest information, please refer to the official website at <https://www.ceo-oec.ca/>

For inquiries, please contact: info@lorvale.com