Ready to transform how your team approaches ELD?

California's vision for multilingual learners is inspiring and urgently needed. Translating that vision into daily practice takes support, clarity and the right tools. SEAL's Content-Based Integrated & Designated ELD Series gives teacher teams and leaders the tools, strategies and support they need to plan and deliver powerful, language-rich instruction across content areas.

WHAT IS THIS SERIES?

A four-day professional learning experience that gives teacher teams and elementary school leaders the training, tools, and confidence to bring the ELA/ELD Framework to life through intentional, responsive English Language Development.

- ✓ Focused on both Integrated & Designated ELD
- ✓ Hands-on, research-based strategies
- ✓ Supports content areas - especially social studies and science
- ✓ Anchored by immersive in-classroom demonstration day featuring Oral Language Analysis (OLA) in action

Build Skills. Apply with Confidence. See it in Action.

Get ready to leave each session with tools you can use right away. This series focuses on real strategies - like sentence frames, oral language scaffolds, and collaborative planning protocols - that help multilingual learners engage with content and build academic language. Everything is designed to be practical, flexible, and rooted in the realities of today's classrooms.

What's Included:

- ✓ Kick-Off Session with school or district leadership and instructional coaches to align goals and set the vision
- ✓ Four full-day sessions, including one demo day with live classroom observation, debrief and co-planning
- ✓ Four hours of targeted implementation support per cohort to ensure follow-through and classroom application

By the end of this series, participants will

- Develop high-impact strategies to help multilingual learners access core content and engage in academic discussions
- Use sentence frames, graphic organizers, and scaffolds to build language and confidence
- Co-plan responsive ELD lessons with grade-level teams
- Differentiate instruction using the ELD Standards
- Integrate ELD into your existing social studies and science curriculum
- Plan standards-based, student-responsive D-ELD lessons

Experience SEAL's Approach in Action

Included in the series is a full-day, in-classroom experience where your team will:

- ✓ Observe a live Designated ELD lesson taught by SEAL facilitators
- ✓ Analyze real Oral Language Analysis (OLA) student samples
- ✓ Learn how OLA helps track language development over time
- ✓ Participate in a structured debrief with educators and facilitators
- ✓ Design lessons based on actual classroom data
