

1996 USAC SPEEDROME MIDGET SEASON

Michael Lang broke a number of records en route to his third consecutive Indianapolis Speedrome USAC Midget championship in 1996.

"I'm proud to be mentioned with names like Mel Kenyon and Rich Vogler," said the reserved Lang. "I never dreamed I'd win so many races and have as good a year as I did in 1996."

Ten victories enabled him to break both Kenyon's single-season prize money record and Vogler's all-time Speedrome Midget Series victory record. Vogler amassed 26 wins during his Speedrome career and Lang tied that on June 7. Two weeks later, he owned the new record of 27.

Then came July and August and a streak of six consecutive wins which tied the third-longest single-series streak in USAC history, leaving him with 33 total career wins at the 1/5-mile paved oval. His final total of $12,110 surpassed Kenyon's previous series record too.

"One night, I had a 1/2-lap lead and broke a rocker arm with six laps to go," Lang remembered. "Even though we weren't going very fast at the end, we still managed to hang on and win. I knew right then that we couldn't do anything wrong."

The season started out on a positive note when Lang won the prestigious "Thunder in the Dome" invitational race at the RCA Dome in Indianapolis.

"Matt Hagans called me the next Monday and offered me a car to run in some National races this year, so I'm glad we got to do that," he added. "Then, we won the Speedrome opener, picking up right where we left off in '95, so I figured it'd be a good year."

Lang, who preps his own Volkswagen motors, offered thanks to his crew chief since 1990. Danny Warfield, as well as to mechanics Kevin Huber, Dan Haston and Haston Jr. (Danner).

"I had a lot of sponsor help too, which helped make it all possible," he said.

They included Eagle Creek Aviation, KECO Engineered Coatings, V-Line Corporation, Ad-Tec Floor Care, Innovative Floors by Ivo, Train Express and Butch & Sons Cartage.
