

1987 USAC NATIONAL MIDGET SEASON REVIEW

A Blue Ribbon Year for KO

By: Richie Murray

Kevin Olson stunned Rich Vogler and the rest of the USAC National Midget series in 1987, coming from behind to steal the championship from the defending titlist in a spirited late-season push. Olson's series-leading eight victories came just five years following his initial 1982 series title in which he became the first champion of the division to win the crown without the aid of a single victory and was subject to a bit of good-natured ribbing over that fact.

Although the majority of his 1987 points were scored in the Wilke Racers machine, Olson drove for eight different teams during the year, for Scott Hatton, Lundgreen Automotive, Jeff Lee, Louie Seymour, Bob Lowe, Dick Polnau and Mark Ray.

Vogler's runner-up finishes during January's Fort Wayne races allowed him to pocket the indoor title and an early lead in the USAC points for eventual series entrant champ Jonathan Byrd. Olson, however, responded with a hometown victory at the Rockford, Ill. MetroCentre, raising his hands off the wheel and high into the sky in jubilation for the final half lap.

After arriving late to the track, Vogler was spectacular at Saint Charles (Mo.) Speedway in May, charging from the 20th and last spot to the lead in just 14 laps en route to winning the 50-lapper. Olson, not to be outdone, was similarly spectacular in the next race, exploding from 17th to first at Santa Fe Speedway in Hinsdale, Ill.

Vogler and Olson found themselves in a tense duel with Mel Kenyon at Kokomo (Ind.) Speedway on June 24, only to tangle and execute a devastating double flip. Kenyon capitalized and ended up with a long-awaited first win for his Suzuki powerplant, then added his 109th career triumph at Pennsylvania's Williams Grove Speedway in early July. Olson then served notice his forthcoming emergence with a win at Five Mile Point Speedway in Binghamton, N.Y. the next night.

Kenyon's efforts pushed him past Vogler into first by midseason. Vogler answered resoundingly with an August win at Colorado National Speedway and a subsequent score at Winchester (Ind.) Speedway four days later to slip back into first.

KO then went on a tear, landing four-straight tallies in the Wilke Racers Pabst Blue Ribbon Volkswagen to set a new series record for consecutive wins at different tracks. In the second of those four events, Kenyon suffered a concussion in a nasty flip at Santa Fe Speedway, forcing his absence from the next two races and virtually ending his bid for the title.

Olson took assumed the point lead with consistency in late-September but needed good showings in November's western finales to unseat Vogler. Olson was second twice, third and seventh, wrapping up the title with a runner-up finish in the Turkey Night Grand Prix at Ascot Park. Olson wound up with a 63-point margin of victory over Vogler, who escaped with a one-point edge over Terry Wente for second. Wente won the points title for the eastern tour in June and July.

A total of 22 different drivers found victory lane, including Bruce Field in April at Winchester, which was his first time behind the wheel since suffering serious head injuries the previous August. Larry Rice returned to the win column for the first time in nearly 12 years during the series debut in April at North Vernon, Indiana's Twin Cities Raceway Park.

Nick Fornoro Jr. won the Night Before the 500 in May at Indianapolis Raceway Park while Stevie Reeves notched a victory in June at Lawrenceburg (Ind.) Speedway in his first career USAC start, surprising everybody, even himself, after not initially planning to compete, admitting to being coaxed into his debut after feeling he didn't have competitive enough equipment.

ARDC shoe John Heydenreich traveled westbound to reign victorious in the not-so-aptly named Hut 100, which consisted of 40 laps and 40 miles and was held at the Indiana State Fairgrounds due to the sudden closure of the Terre Haute (Ind.) Action Track. Meanwhile, Russ Gamester outlasted a field of 33 in the Indy Midget 500 at the Indianapolis Speedrome.

Jack Hewitt became a first-time 4-Crown Nationals midget winner at Ohio's Eldora Speedway while Ron Shuman's Turkey Night G.P. dominance continued at Ascot Park as he nearly lapped the field for his sixth TNGP win in the last nine years.

Badger Midget superstar Dan Boorse of Milwaukee, Wis. had a career-best season with USAC, earning Most Improved Driver honors and finishing fourth in points. Meanwhile, John Meyers of Oak Brook, Ill. was named Rookie of the Year. Don Kenyon was bestowed the Jim Blunk Memorial Award for his contributions to USAC Midget racing.

Organizers attempted to arrange a three-week USAC Midget series in Japan for 1987 with a proposal of three paved ovals to be constructed inside existing stadiums in Tokyo, Osaka and Miyazaki. However, the plan never came to fruition.
