

Unstoppable Leffler Matches Shorty & Davies

By: Richie Murray

Thirty-Seven years is a long time, and Jason Leffler understood the significance of what he accomplished in 1999. Not since Jim Davies won championships in 1960, 1961 and 1962 had a driver strung together three consecutive USAC National Midget driving titles. Only Shorty Templeman before them had done it in 1956, 1957 and 1958.

The 5'3" Leffler not only added the 1999 championship to his 1997 and 1998 accolades, but in the process, he dominated, winning five features in totality, including the season opener and closer, plus the series' highest-Paying race amid it all. Opening the year with a victory in the Copper World Classic at Arizona's Phoenix International Raceway, Leffler added a win at Anderson (Ind.) Speedway in July, another at Indiana's Mount Lawn Speedway in August and one at Indianapolis Raceway Park in September, highlighted by July's one-And-only Summer Sizzle at 16th Street Speedway in Indianapolis.

Leffler's triumph in the 50-Lap finale earned him a $20,000 paycheck, the richest singular payout in midget racing history at that point from an all-Time record purse of more than $140,000. Although the four-Night event didn't count toward the series points, it epitomized the success enjoyed by the Steve Lewis team, which scored 11 wins in 1999 with drivers Leffler and Dave Darland in twin Wynn's/Ford/ASE/Beast/PRI Specials en route to Lewis' fifth series entrant title.

However, the path to a championship hit a snag in May when Leffler suffered a broken hand in a grinding turn one crash during USAC Silver Crown competition at the Indiana State Fairgrounds. With a cast on his wrist, he returned to competition the next night at IRP and was involved in another crash. Leffler was sidelined for the following round at Winchester, which allowed the pavement-Dominant Ryan Newman to briefly slip into the point lead. When Leffler returned in mid-June, he tallied a third win at 16th Street and never looked back, leading the points the rest of the way.

"I was down in the dumps after the crash," Leffler lamented at the time. "There weren't many disappointments overall, except maybe the Night Before the 500 (at IRP). That's a race I really wanted to win but we crashed."

The season ended on the highest of highs for Leffler. In November at Irwindale (Calif.) Speedway, he came from behind to take the victory when Tony Stewart's car faltered on the final lap of the 100-Lap race. In doing so, Leffler became the first driver to win both the USAC National Midget driving championship and the Turkey Night Grand Prix in the same year.

The name "Lewis" seemed to dominate the victory lane ceremonies in 1999. Unrelated car owners Steve Lewis and C.E. Lewis won 18 of the 25 feature events. Ryan Newman, driving for C.E., led the points for two races in June, and was victorious on seven occasions, all on pavement. However, without a regular ride on dirt, Newman couldn't mount a true challenge to Leffler as the season's title race wore on and, ultimately, finished second in the standings, 135 points behind Leffler.

Newman won at IRP twice and all three at Winchester (Ind.) Speedway, in addition to a lead-Swapping final lap with Leffler at Colorado's Pikes Peak International Raceway and at Salem (Ind.) Speedway, where he broke Don Branson's 30-Lap track record from 1961. Jerry Coons Jr. took third in the standings with a victory at 16th Street, while Dave Darland was fourth overall and became the first driver to win the Belleville (Kan.) Nationals, Hut 100 and the 4-Crown Nationals in one season.

A.J. Fike captured Rookie of the Year honors with a ninth-Place finish in the standings on the strength of seven top-10 finishes, including a third at Winchester in May. The series' Most Improved Driver, Clay Klepper, finished eighth in points with a best result of third in the Belleville Midget Nationals opener in August. Longtime USAC Western States officials Pat and Walt Johnson were the recipients of the Jim Blunk Award for their contributions to the sport.

Telecommunications giant MCI WorldCom joined as the series' title sponsor in 1999. After three years of racing, 16th Street Speedway permanently closed. Brian Gerster held on to win a long-Awaited victory in June, leading the first two laps of a feature at Anderson before rain fell, then returned two weeks later to lead the final 38 laps en route to victory.

Sarah McCune became the “first lady” in several USAC National Midget categories in 1999. She became the first woman to win a heat race in June at Winchester. Ten days later, she outqualified a 53-Car field at Anderson (Ind.) Speedway to become the series’ first female fast qualifier. In September at Winchester, she finished second to Ryan Newman to record the best ever feature finish by a woman in a USAC National Midget feature. Meanwhile, another Sarah – Sarah Fisher – led three features and broke Winchester Speedway’s USAC Midget track record with a lap at 122.565 mph in October.
