

2009 USAC NATIONAL MIDGET SEASON REVIEW

Not Coons. Not Kunz. It's Kuhn!

By: Richie Murray

Throughout the latter half of the decade of the 2000s, USAC National Midget racing was dominated by the likes of driver Jerry Coons Jr. and car owner Keith Kunz. In 2009, there was an individual sharing a uniquely similar name – Brad Kuhn – who had a distinct championship vision all his own, which resulted in the Avon, Ind. native scaling the ultimate height.

Kuhn had been paired with three different teams in the preceding four seasons leading into 2009. Despite winning for all three, Kuhn found himself frequently on the hunt for a championship caliber ride in the offseason. He finally found the perfect match in 2009 when he was tabbed to drive for RW Motorsports, which had achieved prior success in USAC Silver Crown racing as the 2008 entrant champion. In 2009, the Lederach, Pa. outfit expanded its operation to include a midget team for which Kuhn was given the reins and he rewarded their choice by engraving his name into the point lead in mid-August and engraving his name into the trophy during December's banquet as the series' newest driving champ.

Brad Sweet kept the title fight close throughout, winning three times in total, starting with the season opener at Arizona's Manzanita Speedway when he zipped by Bryan Clauson who fell to the wayside with mechanical misfortune on the white flag lap. Sweet added two more with an August score at Salem (Ind.) Speedway and again in September during the 4-Crown Nationals at Ohio's Eldora Speedway which pulled him to within 14 of Kuhn with two races to go.

Sweet struggled to 14th in the penultimate race, the final running of the Copper World Classic at Phoenix International Raceway, while Kuhn finished a solid fourth, providing him just enough breathing room to close out the title at Irwindale by a mere eight-point margin despite a 28th place result. Kuhn brought it home on the strength of 12 top-fives and 21 top-tens in 24 feature starts to make RW Motorsports the first Pennsylvania-based team to win the series entrant title.

The point lead swapped 10 times among six drivers. Chad Boat controlled the leaderboard after the second round at The Dirt Track at Las Vegas (Nev.) Motor Speedway while, up front, Jerry Coons Jr. and his team gambled and won by choosing not to change a tire during a mid-race red flag. Sweet slotted in first again after the third outing at Perris (Calif.) Auto Speedway where Darren Hagen opted for a provisional after failing to transfer, then charged from the 13th row to the lead with two laps to go and became the first driver in series history to win after using a provisional.

One race later, Hagen's efforts put him atop the standings, and then he was the first to reach victory lane twice after starting a bit closer – on the front row – in his performance during April at Ohio's Columbus Motor Speedway. After scoring in March at Texas' Thunderhill Raceway, Bobby East assumed the point lead with a third in May's Night Before the 500 at O'Reilly Raceway Park, won by Chuck Gurney Jr. who backed up his first career win at IRP the previous July.

Tragedy struck May's two-night show at Iowa's Knoxville Raceway when Davey Ray and Chad McDaniel flipped with two laps to go during the night one feature. Chad McDaniel, the USAC SMRS Great Plains Midget point leader, succumbed at the age of 34, and was the first fatality in series competition since 1991. Tracy Hines and Kevin Swindell won each feature.

Hagen slid into first in the points at Knoxville, initiating a chain of changes at the top of the standings in five-straight events that lasted through USAC Indiana Midget Week. Coons' IMW opening night Gas City triumph put him ahead of Kuhn, who subsequently ripped it back at Bloomington with a last lap winning pass of Sweet. With the top-three separated by six, it was Hagen's turn to lead the fray as he shot from third to first in the points following Lawrenceburg. Clauson collected victories during the final two nights of the mini-series at Lawrenceburg and Kokomo to earn the IMW crown.

The second half of the slate began with Bobby Santos winning two in succession at Iowa and Toledo in June and July, and again in November at Phoenix when he slipped under Clauson on the final lap. East garnered his second dub in July at North Vernon, Ind. Clauson added four more to bring his win total to six, on pavement at ORP and at Irwindale (Calif.) Speedway's Turkey Night, plus primo dirt wins at the Belleville (Kan.) Nationals and at Wisconsin's Angell Park Speedway where he rim-rode turns three and four to steal the win from Hagen on the last lap. Josh Wise slid by Sweet with two to go to win September's Firemen's Nationals at Angell Park, giving the Wilke No. 5 its first series victory since Parnelli Jones in 1962 while Caleb Armstrong became the lone first-time winner of the season in September at Columbus.

Zach Daum was honored as the Rookie of the Year with a 10th place finish in points. Shane Hmiel, banned from NASCAR but successfully rehabilitating his career in USAC, came home 20th in points, and was named the Most Improved Driver.
