2001 USAC NATIONAL SPRINT CAR REVIEW

The 2001 USAC National Sprint Car Series enjoyed a number of firsts, not the least of which was the driving championship recorded by Phoenix, Arizona's J.J. Yeley.

Yeley captured the Border Wars title and feature wins at Ohio's Attica Raceway Park and Eldora Speedway, plus Lakeside Speedway in Kansas, and was one of only two drivers to win in all three of USAC's national racing series during the year. He ended up winning USAC's Super License title as well, scoring more national feature event points than any other driver.

Yeley emerged as the champion on the final day at Indiana's Salem Speedway following earlier crashes which left title contenders Dave Darland and Jay Drake on the sidelines for the season closer.

Darland was injured at Eldora in September and Drake at Indiana's Terre Haute Action Track the night before the October Salem finale, relegating Drake to second and Darland to fourth in the final standings. Both drivers were well on the road to full recovery by the end of 2001.

Drake's season included a sprint/midget doubleheader sweep at Eldora and an Indiana Sprint Week win at Tri-State Speedway, while Darland ended up as the Pennzoil Indiana Sprint Week titlist and won the Robbie Stanley Classic at Indiana's Lawrenceburg Speedway.

Tony Elliott finished third in the standings with four triumphs, including one at Kokomo Speedway during Indiana Sprint Week.

Fifth in the final points went to Tracy Hines, who claimed the Tony Hulman Classic, USAC's 250th race at Indianapolis Raceway Park, the Joe James-Pat O'Connor Classic at Salem, IRP's Tom Bigelow Classic, and the USAC inaugural at Virginia's South Boston Speedway.

Other notables during 2001 were Jack Hewitt, whose career victory total rose to second all-time after wins at Wisconsin' Angell Park Speedway and Indiana's Twin Cities Raceway Park. Bud Kaeding, who captured the 4-Crown Nationals at Eldora, collected back-to-back wins at Terre Haute in October and USAC's return to Route 66 Raceway in Joliet, Illinois.

Series Rookie of the Year Ed Carpenter capped his season by winning the USAC Sprint Legends Classic finale at Salem, Ind., while A.J. Anderson was a surprise first-time winner in the Bloomington Speedway round of Indiana Sprint Week.

Brian Tyler boosted the Dynamics, Inc. team's all-time victory total to 50 with back-to-back wins at Ohio's Toledo Speedway and IRP, the Toledo win also earned him an Indy Racing League test from Hemelgarn Racing.

Derek Davidson and Jason McCord also posted wins. Davidson won the Glen Niebel Classic at Indiana's Anderson Speedway and McCord took USAC's long-awaited return event at Illiana Motor Speedway in Schererville, Indiana.

USAC's initial involvement in the prestigious Little 500 at Anderson was also a highlight and produced Eric Gordon's third race win.

HINES HUSTLES TO BRANSON/LARSON GLORY AT ELDORA

Rossburg, Ohio……Tracy Hines won the "Don Branson/Jud Larson Classic" 30-lap USAC Sprint Car race at the Eldora Speedway Saturday night but J.J. Yeley finished second to claim the "Border Wars VII" championship.

Hines led all 30 laps to beat Yeley to the checkered flag in an event interrupted five times for flips but there were no serious injuries.

GORDON GETS LATE NIGHT LITTLE 500 WIN

Eric Gordon of Indianapolis, Ind. became a three-time winner of the prestigious Pay Less/Delco Remy "Little 500" USAC Sprint Car race at the Anderson (Ind.) Speedway in a 500-lap race which started on Saturday night and ended just after 1am Sunday morning. A rain delay forced the late start on the 1/4-mile paved oval. Gordon previously won the race in 1993 and 1998.

Gordon, who started second in the 33-car field, led only one lap before taking the lead on lap 352, but led the final 149 laps in his Pay Less Supermarkets/Jim & Polly Booe/Print Express Gaerte-powered machine. His victory was worth an estimated $38,500 out of a total purse of nearly $125,000. On lap 435 he passed second-place Derek Davidson to put a lap on the entire field.

"The car was perfect," said Gordon after the race. "I couldn't have asked for a better car in traffic. On the last stop we decided to put on fresh tires, and it paid off. I had a great team."

Dave Steele led 115 of the first 116 laps of the race after starting from the outside of the front row but slipped a lap down after pit stops. He unlapped himself from Gordon on lap 479 but was unable to catch him in the remaining laps, finishing 10.7 seconds in arrears.

Following runner-up Steele at the checkered flag were Davidson, Gary Fedewa and Brandon Petty.

Pole starter Jeff Bloom, in his 25th start, blew an engine after 337 laps and failed to finish.

Gordon's second and final pit stop on lap 281 actually won him the race as he beat Davidson back onto the track. Davidson had also pitted on the same lap.

USAC Sprint Car Champion Tony Elliott appeared to be Gordon's toughest competition, leading 114 laps before losing his advantage on a long pit stop for fuel at lap 320. Other race leaders included Denny England, Brandon Petty, Jason McCord and Gary Fedewa.

The race was slowed 14 times by caution flags but there were no driver injuries in any of the incidents.
