2003 USAC NATIONAL SPRINT CAR REVIEW

By: Mike O'Leary

For all practical purposes, J.J. Yeley took command of the USAC's national sprint car series with his first win of the season at Terre Haute in May. In the stretch of the next nine races he won five features and finished second three times in his Tony Stewart Racing Mopar machines. His worst finish was fifth.

As if that wasn't enough of a whipping, after Yeley's only mechanical failure of the season in the next race at Pikes Peak, he began another streak. From early July, through the end of the season, sixteen point-paying events, he compiled seven more wins with only one finish out of the top-3. Yeley's accomplishments included a second Indiana Sprint Week title, and a brilliant Buckeye Nationals where he won twice and finished second twice. Credited with 13 victories, he came up one shy of Tom Bigelow's season mark. But Yeley had notched one additional win in an USAC/SCRA non-point race at Terre Haute. He claimed his second USAC sprint car title by more than 350 points, the biggest margin in 27 years.

Like Yeley, Jay Drake entered 2003 with a new racing team. Driving for Keith Kunz and employing Mopar-power and Kunz' own chassis on dirt, he scored victories at Lawrenceburg, Putnamville and on the asphalt at Toledo in an Eagle. At Pikes Peak, Drake set an all-time sprint car qualifying record of 144.950 mph.

Wheeling the Hoffman's Kroger/Tide/Pringles cars, Tracy Hines led the points in early May. The defending series champion, Hines notched fifteen top-5 finishes to earn third in the final standings. His victories came at Pikes Peak, during the Buckeye Nationals at Fremont, Ohio and the Indiana Sprint Week finale at Terre Haute.

Returning after a serious eye injury in 2002, Bud Kaeding completed his first full season in USAC's sprint cars. He claimed a big win at Kokomo during Indiana Sprint Week in an event where Boston Reid suffered a serious concussion in a violent flip. Reid was also in his initial season on pavement and dirt with the Bill Davis/Scott Benic team. He earned an early win at Eldora during Border Wars and finished the season fifth in points in spite of missing three races after the Kokomo injury. Similarly, Cory Kruseman completed his first full season in USAC competition, competing for the Tony Stewart Racing stable. Sixth in the points, the Kruser's best runs were runner-up finishes at Terre Haute and Kokomo.

Two-time USAC sprint car champion Brian Tyler claimed a May victory at Anderson. When Eric Gordon won the Little 500, he joined Bob Frey as the only five-time winners of the prestigious event. Jon Stanbrough hustled Paul Hazen's Stealth into victory lane at Eldora and Lawrenceburg, increasing his career win total to seven. Dave Steele earned the win at Nazareth.

Bobby East's first USAC sprint car victory came at Mansfield, Ohio. Bookending the season were first-time winners Aaron Pierce at the Anderson Speedway opener and Troy Cline in the finale at The Dirt Track at Lowe's Motor Speedway.

Michael Lewis earned victories in his first sprint car starts at both Winchester Speedway and Salem Speedway. With a third feature win at Cedar Rapids, Lewis was named a co-Rookie of the Year in the sprint car division. Sharing rookie honors was Mat Neely, who finished sixteenth in the final points. At fourteenth in points, Marc Jessup was named the series' Most Improved Driver.

Jac Haudenschild's victory in the Mopar Million at Eldora topped USAC's special non-points sprint car events in 2003. In August, three races were completed in conjunction with the SCRA. They were won by Yeley (Terre Haute), Hines (Farmer City) and Troy Rutherford (Granite City).

USAC conducted five Sprint Car "special events" during 2003, which did not offer National points, but did offer plenty of heated competition and lots of prize money for participants.

Topping the list was the September 20 "Mopar Million Sprint at Eldora," the brainchild of Eldora Speedway race organizer Earl Baltes and publicist Larry Boos. The race was the richest in Sprint Car history, offering total prize money of $1 Million, with race winner Jac Haudenschild earning a paycheck in the amount of $200,100!

The Wooster, Ohio driver led the final 12 laps in his Larry Woodward Race to Hawaii.com Maxim to beat Stevie Smith, Dickie Gaines, J.J. Yeley and Rob Chaney. Smith earned $125,000, Gaines raked in $100,000, Yeley made $60,000 and Chaney got $35,000! The event drew an all-time USAC record 138 cars!

Eric Gordon of Indianapolis, Ind. took home over $36,000 as the winner of the Payless/Delco Remy "Little 500" at the Anderson (Ind.) Speedway May 24. The victory was Gordon's fifth in the classic, tying Bob Frey's record number of race victories, as Gordon led 222 laps in his PayLess Supermarkets/Print Express Gaerte/J & J to beat Tony Hunt, Michael Lewis, Gary Fedewa and Jason McCord.

USAC also co-sanctioned three events with the SCRA as part of the 2003 "Non-Wing World Championship" tour. J.J. Yeley, Tracy Hines and Troy Rutherford scored feature wins in the races at Terre Haute, Ind, Farmer City, Ill. and Granite City, Ill.
