Planet Fitness is one of America's most popular and modern gym chains, offering state-of-the-art equipment and facilities at affordable prices. However, cancelling membership might be more challenging than expected. To make it easier, we'll guide you through the process and provide the necessary forms for cancellation. In this article, we'll explore how to cancel Planet Fitness membership in person, by phone, online, on app, via mail, or as a Black Card member. Let's start with the most straightforward method: visiting your local club in person. Simply stop by, speak with an executive or manager, and complete their cancellation request form. Your membership will be cancelled after 30 days' notice. Keep in mind that you'll still be billed for the next 30 days. While phone cancellations aren't available, you can contact Planet Fitness at (844) 880-7180 for more information on cancelling your membership. Unfortunately, there's no online or app-based cancellation option either. To cancel via mail, fill out their request form and send it to their address. We'll also provide guidance on writing a cancellation letter later in this article. Membership cancellation request letters are straightforward once you know the format. You'll need to provide personal details such as name, birth date, address, email, mobile number, Planet Fitness membership ID, and the last four digits of your credit card, along with your signature. The letter can be divided into three parts: an opening section with your personal information, a middle section stating your intention to cancel and providing reasons for termination (optional), and a conclusion with contact details and any feedback you'd like to share (also optional). Make sure the information is accurate before sending it by mail or in person. Alternatively, you can download and print a Planet Fitness membership cancellation letter template to simplify the process. Unfortunately, you cannot cancel your membership online, but some clubs may offer phone cancellations. There may be a fee for early cancellation, typically $58, unless your contract has expired. The standard notice period is 30 days, after which your membership will be terminated. Planet Fitness membership cancellations can be tricky, like many other gym chains in America. While they're not lagging behind on tech, you can't cancel or downgrade your membership online but can upgrade it instead. This might get frustrating, but it's a common practice among gyms. However, cancelling Planet Fitness membership isn't impossible; it just requires a 30-day notice period or a visit to the club and submitting a written request. Those with no-commitment memberships might find it easier to cancel. Contacting your home club directly can provide more information on their cancellation policies. It's worth noting that while Planet Fitness offers affordable memberships, their cancellation process could be streamlined for the digital age.
