

Accessibility Statement

Status as of June 15, 2025

Aumio GmbH is committed to making its website and mobile applications accessible in accordance with applicable legal requirements for digital accessibility, particularly the German Accessibility Strengthening Act (Barrierefreiheitsstärkungsgesetz – BFSG). This accessibility statement applies to the website www.aumio.de.

1. Compliance Status

We strive to make our website as accessible as possible. Most content is already largely accessible. In particular, we focus on:

- Sufficient color contrast for improved readability
 - Use of alternative text (alt text) to support screen readers
 - Ensuring content remains usable with enlarged font sizes or when using zoom functions

2. Non-Accessible Content

Despite our efforts, some areas of the website are not yet fully accessible. These include:

- Missing or incomplete alternative text
- Icons without labels
- Some form fields are not correctly or clearly labeled
- Some text is embedded in images
- Certain links have unclear labels or are represented only by icons
- Inconsistent or unclear error messages

We are continuously working to reduce these accessibility barriers.

3. Barriers Due to Disproportionate Burden

Some accessibility barriers cannot be immediately resolved due to disproportionate economic burden. These include:

- Complex interactive features: Certain interactive elements and specialized functionalities on our website require significant financial and human resources to make fully accessible. We are regularly reviewing ways to improve them but may not be able to remove all barriers immediately due to high costs.
 - Legacy content: Older content created before the BFSG came into effect may not fully meet current accessibility standards. Retrofitting this content would involve a disproportionate effort. All new content is created in accordance with current accessibility guidelines.

4. Feedback and Contact

If you encounter any accessibility issues on our website, we encourage you to contact us. We welcome your feedback and will do our best to address reported issues promptly, within our technical and financial capabilities.
