In contrast, Alexandar was overjoyed at being bonded with his perfect match, yet soon discovered that this gift came with reluctance to reciprocate his affection. Despite his efforts to connect with her, she remained distant and closed-off. His desire for intimacy was met with hesitation, as he struggled to convince her of his unwavering commitment. As their pasts are revealed, the question remains: will Lucianne and Alexandar overcome the obstacles that stand in their way? Can their love prevail against all odds, or will she face a sixth rejection from the one person she trusts? However, Alexandar, known for his strong sense of justice and respect for the mating bond, was not willing to give up on Lucianne so easily. He respectfully urged her to reconsider, revealing a deeper understanding of their connection than she had initially thought.
