Leaving Your Legacy

Let There Be Light

The prayer of the teacher, shown on the next page, was said before school every day by the Brothers and continues to be said in some of our communities. It continues to focus our energy and mission as we begin our morning. The prayer names Strength, Patience, Light and Counsel. Our God is all of these things and more.

Consider light for a moment. Think about what it is like to drive in the dark of night and the importance of headlights on your car. Remember a time when you witnessed the sunrise. I remember one early morning at about 5:00 when I was sitting on the rocks by the lake in Evanston, IL. Gradually, as I looked east, the night time clouds began to give way, the lake began to glisten, and the brilliance of the light was nearly too much for my eyes. All that was in darkness became a rainbow of color. Imagine a world without light both natural and humanly created.

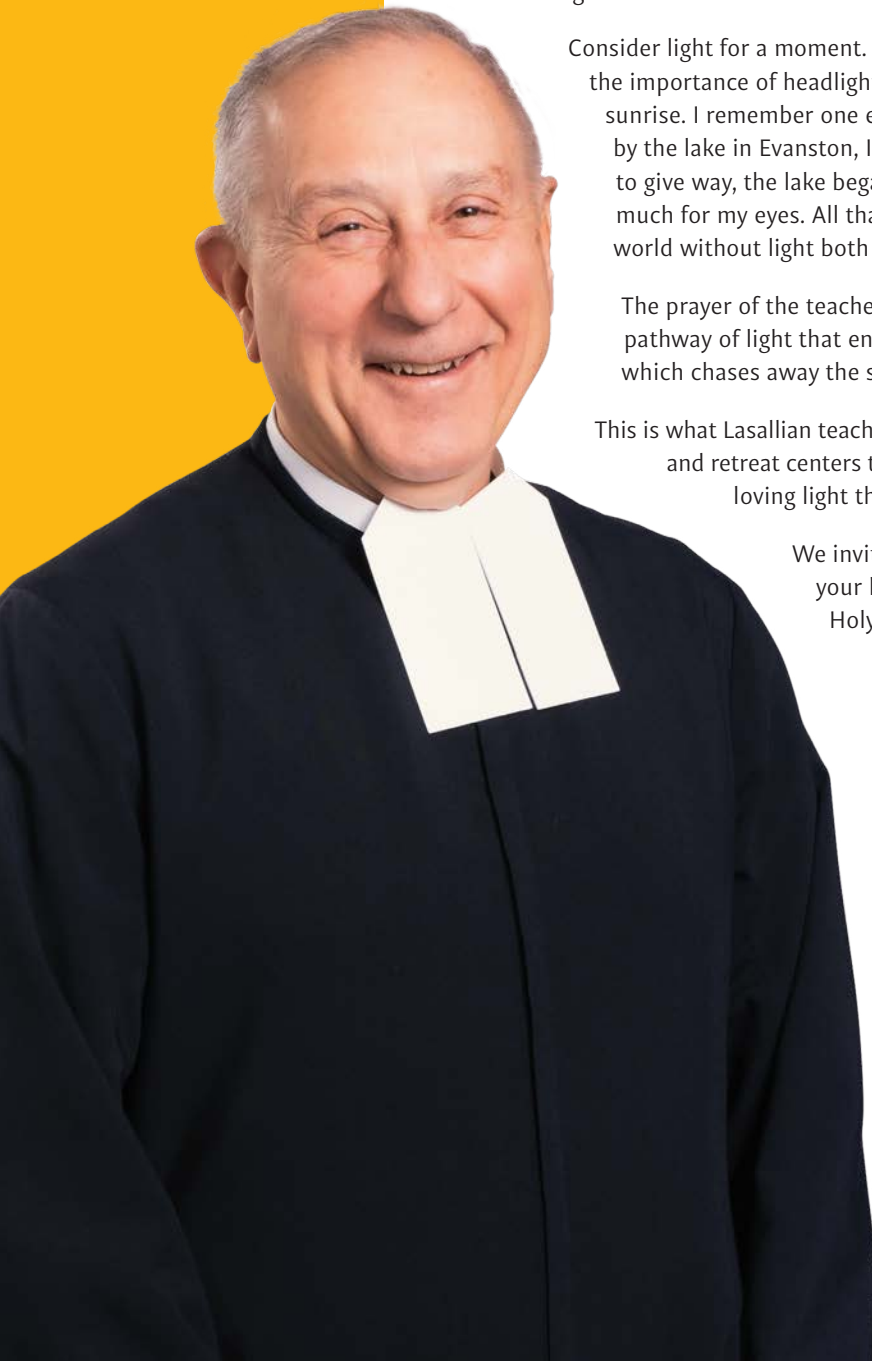

The prayer of the teacher, said before school, tells the teacher that he or she is the pathway of light that enlightens the darkness of ignorance and gives light to faith which chases away the shadows of potentially overwhelming darkness.

This is what Lasallian teachers do every day in middle schools, high schools, universities, and retreat centers throughout the Midwest District. We are the pathway of God's loving light that touches the hearts of the young, and especially the poor.

We invite you to join us in praying these words every day. Unite your hearts with ours so that the light of the Gospel and the Holy Presence of God might fill the earth and every human heart.

The Prayer of the Teacher

You, O Lord,
are my strength, my patience, my light, and my counsel.
It is you who touch the hearts of the children entrusted to my care.
Abandon me not to myself for one moment.

For my own guidance and that of my students, grant me the spirit of wisdom and understanding,
the spirit of counsel and fortitude, the spirit of knowledge and piety, the spirit of a holy fear of you and an ardent zeal to procure your glory.

I unite my efforts to those of Jesus Christ, and I beg the Most Blessed Virgin, Saint Joseph, the Guardian Angels, and Saint John Baptist de La Salle to protect me this day in the performance of my duties. Amen.

Meet the Newest Midwest Office Staff Members of those entrusted to our care.

IRENE MURRAY, RN, MSN

District Health Care Coordinator

I had felt called to combine my nursing experience with my spirituality and had been watching for opportunities, with full confidence that The Lord would lead me to where He wanted me to be, as He always has. The concurrent timing of the retirement of my predecessor with the downsizing of the company I was with seemed providential to me. I am blessed to have the opportunity to accompany our Brothers through their health care challenges and opportunities. Because the physical demands of “hands on” nursing does not lend itself to spend much time just “being” with those you’re caring for, it has been a welcome change to spend quality time with the Brothers, and not be rushed to just finish a task, but to actually have the time to spend being and talking with them.

TRACIE ORTMAN

Associate Director of Leadership Giving Office of Development

I love being able to tie all of my interests and values together, and the Christian Brothers of the Midwest allows me to do that. My passion is hearing and sharing other people’s stories. The position I am serving in allows me to meet people and hear their stories. I have the privilege of understanding what ties them to our mission, and what their passions, goals, and dreams are. I get to connect to people on a deeper level, all while nurturing my faith and seeing the lasting impact their passion has on the next generation. It is inspiring to see their gratitude for the Brothers who have devoted their entire lives to education and service.

DOROTHY PACHUTA

Administrative Assistant

I have grown up in the Catholic faith my entire life. I was taught to be honest, hard-working, and to help people whenever possible. These values were evident in the job description of my current role.

When I first came in to interview, I really felt a connection to the Brothers, the mission and to the Catholic ideals which guide the office. I knew that this was the right place for me and that I could contribute to the team!

Since it is your responsibility to teach your students about God, you must first become aware of the action of God in your life. Teach by example. Put into practice what you want your students to believe.”

—From De La Salle’s Meditations

150th Anniversary Celebrations

Remember this: the presence and grace of God comes in common, ordinary, and natural ways. The saints of the past and those present today knew this very well. With eyes of faith, they saw the connection between holiness and humility, the gift of life in the simplest of things, the presence of Christ in the least, the last, the lost, and in every event that touches our lives.

We honor and celebrate the Christian Brothers who arrived in Saint Paul 150 years ago. Because of the great Chicago fire and the destruction of two of their schools, the Brothers accepted the invitation to come and to teach in Saint Paul. Even through a devastating fire, God's grace moves.

Today the Christian Brothers and 100,000 lay colleagues have 1,000 educational institutions around the world and serve more than 1,000,000 students and their families worldwide.

The arrival of the Brothers from Chicago to St. Paul, MN was not the only opportunity the Brothers had after the great fire. They also moved to Memphis, TN in the same year, 1871.

It was Brother Maurelian, born in Pennsylvania, but who came to us from Montreal where he entered the Brothers for initial training who started it all. He was only 29 when he was assigned to Memphis as the first President of the new Christian Brothers College. It was Brother Maurelian who helped get the sewer system constructed in Memphis as a way to help rid the city of yellow fever. He survived both yellow fever epidemics.

From Brother Maurelian to Interim President, David Archer at what we now know as Christian Brothers University, and Brother David Poos, President of Christian Brothers High School, the presence of the Brothers in Memphis (over 500 have served there), has been one of the foundations, not only of the city, but of the Catholic faith in that city.

As was true in St. Paul, the Brothers accepted the invitation to come and to teach in Memphis. And, once again, we see that even through a devastating fire, God's grace moves – abundantly.

Let us give thanks!

Midwest District Animators Imbue Their Ministries with the Lasallian Spirit

Midwest District Animators have been a long-time asset to our Lasallian charism. These Lasallian Partners, who were identified for their outstanding faith and zeal for our mission, once underwent intense Lasallian formation so that our legacy could live on in their respective ministries. Regional Programs like Buttimer, John Johnston Institute/Lasallian Leadership Institute, and more have helped shape these educators into the Lasallians they are today. Similar to how “a town built on a hill cannot be hidden” (Matt 5:14), neither can the spirit of these Partners be dimmed, showcasing to their local community just what it means to bear our Lasallian values and pride.

We are indebted to our Midwest Lasallian Animators for all that they do on behalf of St. John Baptist de La Salle and the Christian Brothers. It is the Animators who “let [their Lasallian] light shine before others” so that they, too, can be transfigured by the Holy Spirit that gives life to our educational work (Matt 5:16)! To learn more about the Animators, please contact Abby Michels, Animator of Lasallian Formation and Vocation, at 630.323.3725, Ext. 225, or amichels@cbmidwest.org.

Bringing Vocations to Light

For me, the biggest inspiration is the dedication that the Brothers have to their mission – a lifelong dedication to serving their communities, spreading the Gospel through good works, and living their vocation as a Brother. The care and love they have for our community is very clear. Their lifelong dedication to the Lasallian mission is absolutely inspiring to me.”

–Joseph Schauf

The Power of Invitation

“So, have you ever thought about being a Brother?” That is the key question, right? And on the final day of classes on campus last spring, I decided to end my “coffee and conversation” time with a young man on the sunny plaza with that very question. To my surprise, he immediately replied, “Yes, I have.” What? Really? As a first-year vocation director, I was not accustomed to such a prompt and positive response. Here’s what that encounter taught me: you HAVE to invite someone. Invitation has power, no matter what the response.

Think of it as helping to illuminate someone’s path. Light makes all the difference when the path is dim or obscured. So, the four of us—Abby, and Brothers Alan, Rob, and I—have devoted our efforts to both raising awareness of everyone’s call through growing a “culture of vocation” and by actually inviting young people to a deeper engagement with the reality of God’s call in their lives.

We are called to accompany young people: that is to say, to walk with them and listen to them. That is how we help illuminate their path. That is how we get to know them and are able to ask them about where God might be calling them.

So, our job, if you will, is to engage with young people and, when the time is right, to extend an invitation, and whatever their response, we can be assured that a seed has been planted. The harvest is in God’s hands.

We are grateful for the young men who have joined our Christian Brother Contact Program in the last year. As a vocation team, we pledge to accompany them well and to provide them with experiences in which they can spend “quality time” with us Brothers and ponder God’s call in their lives. And who knows where that will lead?

Br. Larry Schatz, FSC
Director of Vocation Ministry

Lasallian Formation at Resurrection College Prep High School

It is hard to imagine that just three years ago I was sitting in the library at Villanova University, working on my final papers, and just starting to think about life after graduation. A few short months later I found myself saying goodbye to the family and home I had found amongst the Augustinians, and accepting a job at Resurrection College Prep High School. In many ways, accepting the job at Resurrection felt like returning to another home I had, one very similar to my own high school: all girls, and run by a group of Sisters. So imagine my surprise when on the first day of work, I found out that the Sisters would no longer be in charge of the school; rather the school would become part of the Christian Brothers network.

In my first year at Resurrection, I found myself in a balancing act. I was balancing the heritage and history of the Sisters of the Resurrection with the newness of the Christian Brothers, both orders I was new to. As I had just begun to find my footing, and finding the right balance, Covid-19 hit. All my plans and hopes for the following school year were put on pause, and like so many others, I found myself in quarantine, with more questions than answers.

My second year at Resurrection felt more like making it through than making progress. It was a year that made me feel very far from finding the home and family I had hoped to find at Resurrection and within the Christian Brothers. Then, VEGA* happened. VEGA was, without a doubt, one of the most insightful, challenging, meaningful, fun weeks of my time working for the Christian Brothers.

I met the most incredible people working in some amazing fields, heard from different speakers about important topics, and participated in some hard but amazing conversations, all between dance parties, eating 100 dinner rolls, laughter, and creating new friendships. VEGA was the first time I was able to really sit down and speak with different Brothers and lay people who have devoted their lives to a mission much bigger than themselves, and became the first time I truly felt a part of that mission, too.

Leaving VEGA, I quickly found myself eagerly asking to head to St. Louis for the Animator and Youth Moderator Gathering, and now Buttimer this summer. I created relationships at VEGA that have transformed the work I am doing at Resurrection, and have inspired me to continue to learn and grow.

This year at Resurrection we started our Young Lasallians group, developed a Service Immersion Program, and continue to integrate the Lasallian Mission into all we do. VEGA opened the door to finding my new home and new family and I can't wait to see what happens next.

VEGA is a biennial, week-long formation experience for young professionals that sheds a vocational light on their role as a Lasallian educator. Participants return to their ministries with a spirit of faith and zeal to continue their work.*

Brother Armand Working to Chronicle Stories of Christian Brothers

When he entered the Christian Brothers so many years ago, little did Brother Armand Alcazar, FSC, know the enormous task that God would be calling him to do. Brother Armand spent the greater part of the 1980s as a member of the CBC religion department in St. Louis. Former students remember Brother Armand as a man who would pose thought-provoking questions of morality and spirituality. He says he has maintained many friendships from his days in St. Louis.

Brother Armand, a Chicago native, had served as the Assistant Provincial for the Midwest District of the Christian Brothers - the No. 2 man for the Brothers in the Midwest District. Needing a break and looking forward to a sabbatical, he was approached by another Christian Brother - an older gentleman - who spoke of his legacy, but how would students and his Christian Brothers colleagues remember him after he was gone?

The sad fact is the number of Brothers just in the Midwest has dwindled from an all-time high of about 1,100 just in the central U.S. Today, there are about 117* Christian Brothers. Called by God in prayer, Brother Armand felt motivated to jump right into a complex oral history project of the Christian Brothers. "I learned how to do some easy video editing, lighting and sound, and invited the Brothers to tell their stories," Brother Armand said.

The response he got was overwhelming in some ways, he said. He recalled an interview with an older Brother who, when it was over, hung his head down, prompting Brother Armand to ask what was wrong. Clearly sharing his story left this Christian Brother overcome with emotion. Fighting back tears, he looked at Brother Armand and said, "You know Brother Armand, the reason why I've never told my story is because no one has ever asked."

Brother Armand Alcazar, FSC, in 1985

He started by setting a goal of doing 30 interviews that first year. His videos now number in the 90s. Not all of the Brothers were interested in participating in the project and he didn't press them. "The shortest interview was about 45 minutes," he said. "And the longest? About four and a half hours."

There is still some uncertainty where these oral histories will live, although Brother Armand is certain they will be made public in some form at some point when the project is completed. There is no end date as of yet. The Christian Brothers want their stories shared, and they are proud to have participated in this project, he added.

"Some of them got very emotional talking about their lives teaching in Lasallian schools," Brother Armand said. "It was very moving and humbling for me. My job is to open the questions and let them talk about their lives as long as they want to do so."

Reprinted from Spring, 2021, CBC Today, with the permission of Michael Jordan, AFSC, President, Christian Brothers College High School, St. Louis.

At the time of this article's original publication, this number was correct. As of this reprinting, there are 108 Christian Brothers.*

Standing on the Shoulders of Giants

The life and ministry of Br. Dale Mooney, FSC

When we were young, we ran. Now, we walk, but with deeper wisdom. The process of aging can be a challenge. Working with our Senior Brothers as they walk through this new season of life is a blessing. Most have more years behind them than ahead, yet they are bound by their commitment to one another and to De La Salle to touch hearts and lives with the truth of the Gospel.

You might think that the Senior Brothers of the Midwest District are “retired,” especially since the average age is 75. However, 35% of our Brothers are beyond the usual retirement age of 65, and are still serving in our educational apostolates. One such Brother is Dale Mooney, President of De La Salle Blackfeet School in Browning, Montana. Several years ago, on the occasion of his 50th anniversary as a Brother, he took some time to reflect on the blessings of his life as a “Senior Brother”:

An admired friend and co-worker once told me that I love a challenge. Maybe that is why I am energized to approach what the day brings. Some might call it stubbornness. I just see it as a place that God calls me to bring my expertise, my experience, and my talents. What makes any challenge worthwhile is seeing a student overcome incredible hardships. When a student graduates from De La Salle or from high school, who could not stand and give a cheer for one who has beaten the odds and has the confidence to take on the next phase in life?

I truly have been blessed in finding a Lasallian purpose. I have found reasons to be thankful, no matter the educational outreach in which I have served those in need: the student of Memphis or St. Louis, the resident at the Casa Indigena Santiago Miller, the student at El Colegio De La Salle, the migrant farm worker, the immigrant Latino, the student and families at Cristo Rey Kansas City, or the Blackfeet Community. In all of this, I have been inspired by the student who forces me to recognize that they have far more strength to succeed than I would if faced with their circumstances. I am also thankful for the men and women who served with me in any of these places. They are still present to me as I continue my journey as a Lasallian.

Thank you for your part in helping Brother Dale and others like him who continue their ministry in these challenging times.

Dear Friends,

As I write this message and reflect upon one of our more exceptional and resilient years, the words “together and by association” resonate. I am proud of what our Lasallian mission and community have achieved, collectively and individually, throughout our Midwest region and country.

We are living in a time when ministries discovered what they really were and what they might become. Never before have our ministries completed an entire academic year with a hybrid teaching and learning setup, remote work, physical distancing, and a host of safety protocols—from masking to testing—against the backdrop of a pandemic and other national and global crises. And yet, thanks to the dedication of our Christian Brothers, lay faculty, staff, students, school families, countless volunteers, and financial supporters, the education of our students proceeded uninterrupted.

As you know, the Christian Brothers have long championed the essential role a Christian education plays in peoples’ lives — its potential for bringing people together, for enabling individuals and families to reach for their dreams, and for being a source of strength in difficult times. Those opportunities were even more pronounced this year as we continued facing an unrelenting pandemic. I am proud of how we ALL stepped up.

On behalf of the Christian Brothers of the Midwest District and our community of Lasallian partners, it is my privilege to thank you for faithfully embarking with us in building new paths and transforming lives through the education of young people, especially those most in need. We are grateful to the countless volunteers and financial benefactors who have helped shepherd our work through the years. The following listing acknowledges friends who have made financial contributions to advance the mission of the Christian Brothers and our regional ministries between September 1, 2020 through August 31, 2021. Your support has helped provide for the needs of our Brothers in their advanced years, foster a culture of vocations, strengthen our Lay Lasallian Formation program, and help provide appropriate oversight of mission formation throughout our school ministries.

The individual names in this report are grouped according to their level of contribution and alphabetically within those categories. While every effort has been made to maintain an accurate listing, errors or omissions do sometimes occur. In the event a mistake has been made, please accept our apologies and contact Samantha VenHuizen in our Development Office at 630.323.3725, Ext. 218, so we can make the correction and update our records. If you were not able to support the Brothers this past year, we hope you’ll join us and continue to grow the number of friends in this report who, through their extraordinary generosity, represent all that is good and inspiring.

We wish you and your loved ones a blessed, healthy, and prosperous New Year.

Live Jesus in Our Hearts. Forever.

 Mr. Dennis Ciciel
 Dr. Daniel Collins, MD

I attended Catholic schools from grade school (Divine Infant) to high school (St. Joe's) and my children also attended Catholic schools from grade school (Holy Ghost) to high school (Driscoll Catholic) and even college (St. Norbert). My high school education, as well as my children's high school education, was with the Christian Brothers. I feel this high school education helped prepare me and my family for the rest of our lives. Because of this, I support the Christian Brothers because I think it's necessary for people to be able to receive a good Catholic education, as rare as it seems to becoming today. To provide this Catholic education, it is necessary for us, as well as others, to try to provide financial assistance."

We give because it's a good order that's very attentive to the education needs of young Catholic students. Unfortunately, longevity has a way of catching up with us and, due to age, the Brothers are really being hit. Especially those who have a long history of being a good educator and are getting up in years and can no longer teach."

 The Christian Brothers are some of the most selfless educators in Catholic education. Our schools would not be as strong as they are without the foundation they have built and the invitation they have given to lay partners to join them in the mission.”

I give because it's a small way to give back and to honor and provide a tribute to the contributions the Brothers have made to countless lives in spreading the Gospel by their example. The Brothers are truly devoted to their vocations, not just in the classroom, but throughout their lives. Even in retirement they continue to contribute to their schools, communities, cities, and the world as a whole.”

friends remembered the Christian Brothers of the Midwest in their Estate Plans
during Fiscal Year 2020-2021

“The Christian Brothers have been a continuing presence in our life since high school. We consider them part of our family. From the time Nick started at De La Salle High School (Minneapolis, MN) in the 1950s, through his time at Saint Mary’s University, and then a few years in the novitiate, they have been in our lives. The connection continued with our own children attending Christian Brothers schools. That’s why leaving a legacy gift is important to us because it allows us to show our gratitude to the Brothers. Creating a Charitable Gift Annuity is a meaningful and practical way to support the Christian Brothers while providing income for us during our senior years.”

Leaving Your Legacy

Please contact Anthony C. Chimera, M.B.A., Director of Development, at 630.323.3725, Ext. 211, or achimera@cbmidwest.org, if you are interested in learning more about Legacy Giving. Our Office of Gift Planning can review your goals, discuss areas you wish to support, draft sample language for your will or trust, and explore vehicles that provide lifetime income and tax benefits.

If you have remembered the Christian Brothers of the Midwest in your estate plan, please let us know so we can appropriately thank you and ensure that your gift intention is honored according to your wishes. Thank you.
